World faces uncertainty, India poised for better times: PM

Modi, Nirmala urge investors at GIM-2022 to bet on K'taka, believe in India

Prime Minister Narendra Modi addresses delegates through video conference after virtually inaugurating the Global Investors Meet 2022, at Palace Grounds in Bengaluru on Wednesday | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

WHILE the world comes to terms with the impending strife of recession and other uncertainties, India has managed to carefully navigate through these troubled economic waters, said Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday in his virtual address after inaugurating the Global Investors Meet (GIM) 2022. "The world is in crisis, but experts have termed India as a bright spot," he said.

Elaborating on it, the PM said, "Last year, India witnessed a record FDI (Foreign Direct Investment) of $84 billion. We are continuously working on our fundamentals so that our economy strengthens."

Highlighting the way forward, the Prime Minister said, "There is a need to create a suitable environment for investment. Instead of making complex laws, there is a need to rationalise them for wider reach. New India can be built only through bold reforms, big infrastructure and best talent ... Now when the world is moving towards Industry 4.0, India's young talent has established over 100 unicorns. In the last eight years, the country has hosted over 80,000 startups. When it comes to talent and technology, the first thing in anyone's mind is 'Brand Bengaluru'. Karnataka has the power of the 'double-engine'."

Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said, "There is definitely a sense of uncertainty and challenge. But that's not just for India. Every country around the world is feeling the headwinds. All are going through huge recessionary doubts. Technically, we are at the threshold of recession, but are not yet out of that situation."

The two harrowing years of the Covid-19 pandemic, followed by war in Ukraine, delivered devastating effects on the world economy. Recession has begun to make landfall in several developed economies, as is seen in the UK today.

Learn from success story of 'Kantara': Goyal

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE & ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

KANNADA blockbuster 'Kantara' has taken the box office by a storm. The movie, running successfully across the globe, is being lauded for its storyline, direction, cinematography, and music.

The latest admirer of the movie is Union Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal, who cited the 'Kantara' success story to industrialists and investors at the Global Investors Meet (GIM), which kicked off in Bengaluru on Wednesday.

The Union minister said that 'Kantara', which beautifully captures the indigenous art forms and culture of Karnataka, was made with a modest budget of Rs 16 crore, and went on to earn Rs 300 crore in revenue. "I am sure the success of 'Kantara' has caught the attention of the captains of many companies here on how to get returns," he quipped.

Goyal recalled that the US commerce secretary recently expressed interest to visit Bengaluru and get a feel of Karnataka.

He added that during his recent visit to the US, innovators and industrialists with whom he was interacting, said that Bengaluru's name was synonymous with information technology, research and development, and the innovation sector.

Goyal pointed out to the investors that after learning about the investment plans of industrialists in Karnataka, and the way they want to expand their operations here, he was reminded of the success of 'Kantara'. This remark drew a big applause from the audience.

Mother of 3 is J&K's first female e-rickshaw driver

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

A housewife in Jammu has smashed the gender stereotype by becoming the first woman to drive an e-rickshaw in the militancy-hit J&K. Seema Devi — a mother of three teenagers — has been driving the rickshaw in Nagrota for four months.

"I took it up because my husband's earnings were meagre. I wanted to provide a decent living to my family and better education to my kids," she said.

Seema, who is in her mid-40s has a 15-year-old son and two daughters, aged 14 and 12.

"I and my husband took a loan of ₹30,000 and purchased the rickshaw on EMI of ₹3,000. My husband taught me how to drive. I felt if a woman can run a train and helicopter, why can't I drive a rickshaw? It motivated me," she said, adding she got inspired by women who are working in different fields.

HC to NHAI: Inspect pothole-filling work in Bengaluru

High court pulls up BBMP for ignoring its orders for the last 6-7 yrs, says only cosmetic work done on roads, which peel off after heavy rain

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Wednesday directed the Chief Engineer of the National Highway Authority of India (NHAI) to personally inspect the pothole filling work and relaying of roads done by private contractors and by an agency outsourced by the Bruhat Bangalore Mahanagara Palike (BBMP). Coming down heavily on the civic body for ignoring its earlier orders during the last six to seven years, the court directed the NHAI to submit a report in four weeks.

The direction was issued in the absence of independent third-party assessment of the work being done by private contractors and the agency, and the BBMP authorities themselves are certifying the work done by them.

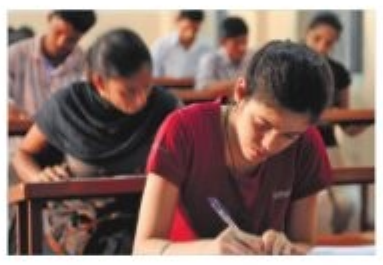
Pointing out that the observations made in the earlier orders about poor condition of roads, and potholes in particular, leading to accidents which have claimed human lives, a division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Ashok S Kinagi orally observed that the photographs of the work produced by the BBMP show that only cosmetic work is being done on roads, which peel off after heavy rain.

The court was hearing a public interest litigation (PIL) filed by Vijayan Menon and three others from Koramangala in 2015 seeking directions to improve the condition of poor roads in the city. The court also directed the Chief Engineer, NHAI or a senior officer/nominated by him to personally inspect the work and also to indicate in the report if there is any dereliction on the part of BBMP officials, pothole filling agency or contractors.

The court said, after visiting the places where the work is done, the Chief Engineer or the officer nominated by him should submit a detailed report by independently assessing the work on issues whether the work is carried out as per the work order, whether the work carried out by the contractor or the agency is satisfactory and also make suggestions, if any.

The high court made it clear that the order passed on Wednesday should not be treated as stopping ongoing work and that the work already undertaken should proceed until further orders.

Meanwhile, the court also granted time to American Road Technology Solutions, the firm which was entrusted with the work of filling up potholes using a Python machine, to submit its response to the notices issued by the BBMP for allegedly not fulfilling the terms of the contract. The next hearing has been adjourned to December 7, 2022.



No caste ID? Students of CET to be under GM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

FOLLOWING numerous issues with the Karnataka Common Entrance Test (KCET) document verification, the Karnataka Examination Authority (KEA) said it will convert SC/ST candidates who have not uploaded details properly, to General Merit (GM) category.

KEA executive directive Ramya S told reporters on Wednesday that there were several cases of SC/ST candidates not being able to procure caste certificates, leading to errors during the verification process. "Candidates were not uploading income and caste certificates properly. For RD numbers, in case they had forgotten, they would enter their parents' or siblings' number instead of their own, which comes up as an error in the document verification process," she said.

The issue has cropped up as this year's document verification is being done online, meaning mistakes were immediately flagged by the system.

Around 13,000 candidates had faced errors, however, most of them were resolved, according to KEA. The rest of the candidates who are not able to procure their caste or income certificates, will be converted to GM category and get seats in the second round. "To ensure there are no more delays, the directive was given to cancel their seats in the first round, and put them under GM category in the next round," she said.

The minister said the decision to hold the convocation was taken so that diploma students are treated the same as other students who take up higher education courses. The convocation is named after Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar for his contributions to the development of the education and industrial sectors.

If results good, BBMP school HMs to be sent to Kashmir, Singapore

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

UNVEILING BBMP's 'APJ Abdul Kalam Dream School' project, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike Special Commissioner, Education Department, Ram Prasat Manohar on Wednesday announced that headmasters and principals, who ensure 80-100 per cent results in SSLC and PUC exams in BBMP schools, will be sent on trips to Kashmir and Singapore

"If students get 100 per cent, they too will be sent to Singapore. This arrangement will be taken care of through the 'CSR' initiative. The Palike will work out the modalities after getting the files signed by the chief commissioner. Whether I stay here in this department or not, the promise will be kept," he said.

The function was organised to honour heads of BBMP institutions, who have made good progress in the quality of schools and for coming up with initiatives under the pilot project 'APJ Abdul Kalam Dream School' that began on August 15 and ended on October 15. In all, 17 heads of institutions from primary to degree colleges were honoured and a cheque of Rs 1 lakh was presented to each of them for development of their institutions.

Five primary schools, five high schools, five pre-graduate colleges and two degree colleges were selected. "They were rated on parameters like discipline, admission, results, school environment improvement and moulding children's behaviour. Their success will be replicated in other BBMP institutions. The idea is to improve BBMP schools and colleges and raise them to be on par with private schools," said Umesh DS, Assistant Commissioner, BBMP Education Department.

Department top officials asked all institution heads to focus on out-of-the-box concepts and first update themselves with more information, read more books, gain confidence and prepare their students accordingly.

Elderly couple fences road in Kempegowda Layout in protest

S. LALITHA @Bengaluru

Chikka Bettaya and his wife Lakshmi Narasamma | S LALITHA

DEMANDING justice from the Bangalore Development Authority (BDA), a senior citizen couple has blocked over 100 metres of the Major Arterial Road (MAR) passing through the sprawling Nadaprabhu Kempegowda Layout, constructed by the civic body.

The couple says their land was taken away for the formation of the layout. They have been running from pillar to post for the last two years. They said they will remove the fencing which they have have erected on both sides of the road only after the property given to them in exchange by the BDA is registered in their names.

Chikka Bettaya, 75, whose left leg and left hand are paralysed, and his wife Lakshmi Narasamma, 70, are residents of Komaghatta village in the Layout's Fourth Block.

Site owners who wanted to use this road as it connects all the nine blocks of the layout were shocked to see the main road being fenced with vertical poles with steel wire running between them so that none could pass through it. BDA has completed work on 5.7 km out of 10.76 km road that will connect Mysuru Road with Magadi Road and the Layout's all nine blocks with 26,000 sites.

Bettaya, a retired KSRTC driver told TNIE, "We parted with 14 guntas of our land for the layout. Our ancestors were farmers and this land has been with our family for the last 60 years. We were given 4,150 sq feet of developed land in exchange. The compensation amount has been handed over to us but it is yet to be registered in our names."

Filled with rage at the manner in which BDA officials have treated him, Bettaya said, "In my paralysed state, I have visited the BDA head office eight times in the last two years, spending Rs 800 by Ola or Uber for each trip. The files keep moving from one official to another, but the land never gets registered in our name."

His wife adds, "The land we surrendered also had an outhouse with an electricity connection. We gave it all up for a public cause and today we are suffering so much."

The couple alleged that they have already paid Rs 1.5 lakh as bribe for the land to be registered in their names. "We cannot pay any more amount for it," Bettaya charged. When the matter was brought to the notice of BDA officials, there was no response from them.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

03RD November : It's a Libran day today, which means one thing: compromise! Libran people will do anything to be liked, so they spend a lot of time avoiding arguments. My advice is to try to find a middle path, no matter how difficult it seems. Everyone has a point of view and, even if we don't like it, at least we can listen. Sometimes talking really can defuse tense situations!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You're entering a busy phase, so you'll probably need all the help you can get. Splendid planetary indications reinforce the region of your chart ruling friends and acquaintances. You may follow your stars and build up a network of contacts for use at work as well as in your leisure life.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
The period you are now entering will put amazing pressure on you to move home. I'm talking, by the way, in terms of a time-scale of at least six months, but the point is that any premature decision will either not come to pass or be severely delayed.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Long-buried feelings and desires should come to the surface, and quite right, too. This is a positive phase, favouring all long-term adventures and far-flung possibilities. Integrity is a must. The moment your standards slip, then your plans will begin to come unstuck.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You must be at some pains to point out that obstacles are not your responsibility. However, if you can possibly also spread the word that you are not solely to thank for a number of favourable moves, and that other people should share the credit, then your humility will eventually be rewarded.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Please don't imagine that you have been passed by. There is enough in today's stars to indicate that should you accept first that cooperation is vital, and second, that other people's feelings should be taken into account. In other words, selflessness wins the day!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
There's still no let-up at work. In fact, there is every indication that life is about to get even busier. Please don't grumble, for consciously or unconsciously, you are inviting fresh responsibilities and letting yourself in for extra hard work.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Your romantic and social prospects are not perfect, but you're ninety-five percent there. Do give all personal contacts, from the most intimate liaisons right down to casual meetings, your fullest attention. The last thing you want to do now is make a slip that will upset someone who matters to you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Everything that I have said about the potential for change at home continues, yet in a far more intense fashion. If I were you, I'd wait until the dust settles before acting on current feelings. Perhaps, though, you can press on with small and unimportant plans.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
If you're holding discussions, conducting a debate or attending an interview, well done: you are absolutely and totally in tune with your stars. In any case, please do make a point of sharing all your desires, hopes and plans with everyone who is concerned, however remotely.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
The financial indications are contradictory, but I'd say you're in with a better than average chance of a windfall. The important point is not to get bound up with the details of income and expenditure, but to resolve to deal with money better. A positive attitude now equals prosperity in the future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Get into top gear and take control. At work, at home, in love and in business, this is the day to make a fresh start. Psychological and material spring-cleaning should be comprehensive, thorough and all-embracing. Leave no stone unturned.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You may try to make things easier for yourself by being as flexible as you can over long-term emotional engagements. Your standards are high and getting higher, so you must know what you want of yourself before demanding it of others. That's only fair.

Bar brawl turns violent, dog takes away youth's severed fist

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru:

IN a bizarre incident, a stray dog took away the severed fist of a youngster's left hand, in Kurubarahalli area of Mahalakshmipuram police limits.

S Prajwal, 21, and his friends were involved in a bar brawl with another group of men, and were sent out by the bar staff. The victim and his gang then went near a park to smoke cigarettes. The rival gang left the place and returned in a car, and on sighting them, Prajwal's friends ran away. However, the accused managed to catch hold of Prajwal and hacked the fist of his left hand and the fingers of his right hand with a machete. The attack took place near Shiva Temple Park in JC Nagar around 2am on Sunday.

Prajwal's friends rushed him to Victoria Hospital, where he told doctors that he lost his fist after the bucket of a backhoe fell on him. The incident came to light after his mother Sudha filed a police complaint on Monday. On checking CCTV camera footage, police said a dog took away the fist.

"The accused, while drinking, are alleged to have thrown tissue paper at the victim and his friends who were sitting on the opposite table. This trivial reason led to a fight between the groups. The victim had concealed the real reason during hospital admission and made it look like an accident at a construction site. He is out of danger and has given his statement," said an officer who is part of investigations.

Two of the accused are identified as Harish and Ajith. One of the accused was arrested.

Around three years ago, Prajwal, a resident of Moodalapalya, had an issue with the same gang, and the attack is suspected to be in retaliation.

Mahalakshmipuram police registered a case of attempt to murder along with other sections of the Indian Penal Code. Further investigations are on.

Four teens from same family drown inVijayanagara dist

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR @Hosapete

IN a tragic incident, four teenagers from the same family drowned in a lake at Channahalli Tanda in Harapanahalli taluk of Vijayanagara district on Wednesday.

The deceased are Ashwini (17), Abhishek (14), Kavya (19) and Apoorva (14). The incident happened when Abhishek, who was sitting on the shore, accidentally fell into the water. In a bid to save him, his elder sister Ashwini jumped into the lake. Kavya and Apoorva too jumped in the water to save the two and all four drowned. The bodies were recovered by the police and fire personnel on Wednesday evening. Police said all four did not know how to swim and there was nobody near the lake who could help them.

The incident came to light when some villagers, who were going to a farm near the lake, noticed some clothes on the shore and grew suspicious. They informed the police who called local swimmers, but it was too late. A pall of gloom descended near the lake when parents and relatives of the deceased were inconsolable.

House owner attacks teen brothers, threatens them at gunpoint

ENS @Bengaluru

A 19-year-old degree student and his 17-year-old brother were threatened at gunpoint by their house owner at MV Layout in Gidadakonenahalli, under Annapoorneshwari Nagar police station limits. The accused removed their clothes after locking them in a room, before beating them with iron rods, they alleged.

P Koushik Chirag, his minor brother and their parents had moved into the house, taken on a lease of Rs 8 lakh, early this year. Due to differences with the owner, they decided to vacate the house. The owner agreed to give Rs 1 lakh at the time of vacating, and sought time to return the remaining money, for which he said he would give two post-dated cheques. But the tenants demanded the entire amount, which created a rift between them, police said. Koushik filed a complaint against R Anil, Bharath, Raju, Chandan and others on Monday. The brothers were attacked at Anil's office located at Muddinapalya Main Road in Gidadakonenahalli, the complaint added.

The complaint said the family had taken Ramachandrappa's house on lease. On Sunday, Ramachandrappa and his grandson Bharath had come to the house to find out when they were vacating. Chirag's mother, who was alone at home, clarified that unless the entire amount was returned, they would not vacate. This led to an argument. Chirag called Bharath on Monday and went to meet him at his borewell office. The two brothers went with three friends to question Bharath and his grandfather. They waited in the office as Bharath was not in.

Around 3.30 pm, Bharath and his uncle Anil, son of Ramachandrappa, and others reached the office and reportedly attacked the brothers. The accused stabbed Chirag on his right leg. Two persons were arrested, while Anil, is yet to be arrested, police said. Anil is alleged to have threatened the brothers at gunpoint, the complaint added. A case under the Arms Act, attempt to murder and other IPC sections were registered against the accused.

Nursery staff say they're barred from Lalbagh

ENS @Bengaluru

MEMBERS of the Nurserymen Cooperative Society staged a protest on Wednesday alleging that despite the Karnataka High Court allowing them to continue operating their nursery on 1 acre 29 guntas inside Lalbagh, officials have locked the gates and are allowing only a handful of them to water the plants. They claimed that due to this, they have been facing losses of Rs 1.5 lakh daily in the last 14 days.

Talking to TNIE, R Ravi, board member of the society, said the court has directed Lalbagh officials to open the gates and allow business as usual. The official order will come by Thursday, he added. Horticulture Department authorities refused to comment, but said after they get the order copy, they will send it to Horticulture Minister Muniratana and Horticulture Secretary Rajendra Kumar Kataria. Based on their direction, further steps will be taken. Lalbagh authorities had issued an eviction order against the Nurserymen Cooperative Society from the said land stating the very purpose of the society to work for farmers wasn't being realised.

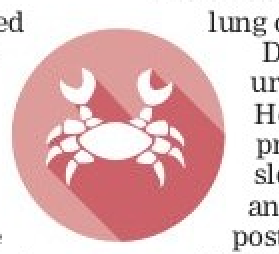
60-plus? Check for prostate cancer

NAMRATA SINDWANI @Bengaluru

THE incidence and prevalence of cancer cases reportedly increased by 2,000 in urban Bengaluru in 2021, with prostate cancer being in the list of top five types in Karnataka.

Dr Keshav Murthy, Institute of Nephrourology, explained that a person who has a family history of prostate cancer should go for an examination post the age of 60. He said cases are more prevalent in older men as the prostate glands tend to get enlarged with age, hence, the chance of developing cancer also increases.

Dr Murthy also stated that all metropolitan cities have seen an increasing trend of cancer cases over the years. For Karnataka, almost 15 per cent of the total cases were prostate cancer. Kidwai Memorial Institute of Oncology, Bengaluru, collects data on cancer cases across the state. Statistics showed that prostate cancer was the second leading site of cancer in males, after lung cancer.



Dr MK Muniraju, urologist, KC General Hospital, said that prostate cancer was a slow growing tumour and showed symptoms post the age of 40. Difficulty in passing urine, prolonged back pain in certain cases were major symptoms of this cancer. He advised men to undergo screening after the age of 40, to help diagnose its presence at an early stage, which increases the curability rate.

Chemical fumes present in certain types of plastic are said to be one of the causes of prostate cancer, Dr Muniraju said. However, Dr Murthy clarified that it was not scientifically proven yet that inhalation of fumes from burning or production of plastic was directly related to cancer.

Proposals okayed at GIM to be given nod in 90 days: CM

CM Basavaraj Bommai interacts with Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman in the presence of Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot at the Global Investors Meet 2022, in Bengaluru on Wednesday | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

"ALREADY, investment proposals worth Rs 2.80 lakh crore have been approved and all the proposals signed at GIM will be cleared in the next three months. An investment of Rs 7 lakh crore is expected because of the industry-friendly atmosphere in the state. Since the government is serious, investors too should be equally serious as the government is determined to help industries in Karnataka grow to international level," said Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai at the inauguration of GIM 2022, here on Wednesday.

He said the state government has considered all the agreements signed, while all necessary permission and cooperation will be extended to make the business proposals become a reality.

"The government will further improve the industrial-friendly atmosphere in Karnataka and at the highest level, efficient and high-quality manufacturing should take place here. It will play an important role in the economy. The investments that are currently on paper should become a reality," he suggested.

The state is home to institutions like IIT, IIM, IISc and DRDO with as many as 400 international-level research centres, while 5,000 to 10,000 engineers are involved in research in companies set up in Bengaluru, with a lot of research going on from genomics to aerospace. Karnataka is at the top in the research index of Niti Aayog, he explained.

"Karnataka is the first state in the country to host a Global Investors' Meet of this scale after the Covid pandemic," he said. The challenges posed by the pandemic were turned into opportunities and the state not only effectively managed the pandemic, but also prepared itself for economic development, he added.

"After Covid, the state's economic progress gained pace as in the first six months of last year, the revenue collection was Rs 13,000 crore over the target and this is the strength of Karnataka, which is second in GST collections in the country," he stated.

"The China Plus One destination has reduced and now India has become a favourite destination. The challenges are turned into opportunities because of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's vision," he said.

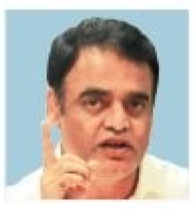
9 lakh jobs in 9 years, promises minister

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

IT/BT and Skill Development Minister Dr CN Ashwathnarayan promised on Wednesday that nine lakh jobs will be created in the next nine years in Karnataka.

Speaking at the fireside chat 'Emerging Trends In Globalization And Opportunities For India' on the first day of the Global Investors Meet, he said that 11 industrial clusters in the state which will help in creating employment. "Several clusters dedicated to the manufacture of products like electric vehicles in Ramanagara, pharmaceuticals in Yadgir, toys in Koppal and Fast Moving Consumer Goods (FMCG) in Dharwad will start operations. These will help pave the way for a balanced growth of Karnataka," the minister said.



He said that the formation of these clusters as well as implementation of policies related to skill development will ensure that around nine lakh jobs are created in the state in nine years. He also said that entrepreneurs and investors who are interested in investing in Karnataka will be able to receive the largest percentage of their capital in the country, with a subsidy of 25%-30%. "97% of the automobiles manufactured in the country are made in Karnataka. The State Government has implemented several measures and policies to benefit all modern industries. We were also the first state to implement the National Education Policy and we have done it effectively. Most importantly, we will ensure that we make use of the skilled talent available to us as well as the natural resources available to us," he said.

Meanwhile, GIM will have several country sessions with representatives from South Korea, The Netherlands and Japan speaking on relations with India in terms of investment on Wednesday. Representatives from Japanese automobile firms spoke on helping provide mobility-related solutions in the state. Sessions involving Germany and France will be held on Thursday, with Australia holding a country session on Friday.

Sterlite Power to invest ₹50,000cr in renewable energy sector

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

THE Vedanta group is currently building over 1,000 megawatt wind/solar hybrid projects in Karnataka and will send it to the smelters in Rajasthan, Chhattisgarh and Odisha through the inter-state transmission network.

"Over the next five years, we plan to increase the renewable capacity by 10-fold and invest close to Rs 50,000 crore into renewable generation. A large chunk of this investment will come to Karnataka," said Pratik Agarwal, Managing Director, Sterlite Power.

Sterlite Power is owned by Vedanta group.

Speaking at the Global Investors' Meet, Agarwal urged the Karnataka government to adopt an intra-state transmission model through PPP (public private partnership). "As electricity consumption grows at double digits, the state will need continuous strengthening of the grid. Many states have already tasted success with this model. We are already developing two critical transmission lines on behalf of the Government of India, one connecting Karnataka to Kerala and the other connecting it to Maharashtra via Goa. Both these lines will be critical for exchange of renewable energy in the coming years," he elaborated.

He said Karnataka has made one of the biggest contributions to brand India globally, and Bengaluru specifically has put India on the world map of technology.

Agarwal said the next mission is to reduce India's dependence on imported electronics. "We will begin by manufacturing semiconductors and reduce the $16-billion import bill on this account. We will also invest in display manufacturing, as we are already making display glass in Korea and Taiwan and we are the fourth largest in the world," he added.

"We are envisaging that India should become a net-exporter of electronics in the years to come. Karnataka will play a pivotal role in realising this dream," he added.

At the investors' meet, ABC Cleantech, a part of Axis Energy Group -- which is one of the leading renewable energy players, announced that it had signed an MoU with the Karnataka government for setting up a green hydrogen production unit of 0.2 million tonne/annum and 1 million tonne/annum of green ammonia integrated with 5 GW of renewable energy projects with an investment outlay of Rs 50,000 crore. This manufacturing unit is proposed to generate employment for close to 5,000 people over 10 years.

Spotter Mobility has developed the vehicle that has two wheels in the front and one in the back. The cabin has two seats and any person who rides a scooter can easily ride it. The co-founders of the firm, Prasad Patil and Arun Agadi, who are from the engineering background and are showcasing the vehicle at the Global Investors Meet, said they have developed the EV for two years now.

"In all metro cities, people mostly use two-wheelers to go to work. While two-wheelers are convenient, they can't offer the comfort of a car, especially when it rains. There is a vacuum in the segment between two-and four-wheelers and the reverse trike we have designed is expected to fill the void," Patil said, adding, "When we did market research, many said that they were looking for something like that but there was no availability. Hence, we went ahead with the R&D and other processes."

He said the vehicle offers safety, comfort and convenience besides ease of parking and maneuverability despite being cost-effective. "As parking space is a major constraint in cities, the vehicle is designed in such a way that it's hardly a few centimetres wider than two-wheelers. Two vehicles can be parked in the space of one car," he said.

"We are developing the vehicle to run at least 150 km per charge. Also, it will have an air-conditioning facility, reverse gear with a rear camera and an audio system like any other car," Patil added.

Recently, the firm has obtained the intellectual property rights for the twin independent seater and the approval from the Automotive Research Association of India (ARAI) is pending. "We are expecting the ARAI approval at the earliest and we intend to hold the commercial launch in 2023," said Arun Agadi, who said the price of the vehicle is not yet finalised but it will be around Rs 2.5 lakh.

Airtel looks to expand 5G in Karnataka

Bharti Airtel revealed its plans to expand 5G services in Karnataka. Bharti Enterprises Vice-Chairman Rajan Bharti Mittal said, "Airtel has been at the forefront of connecting India, and of course Karnataka. We have connected 99% of the state, and we will be touching 100% as we are rolling out 5G... 5G has been rolled out in eight cities in the state, including Bengaluru. We are looking at some time by December-January, from when the entire state would be covered with 5G." The telecom operator said it has surpassed 1 million 5G customers within 30 days of commercial launch, even while the network is being built.

Eco-bottle, Made in...!

The Global Investors Meet began with all the expected frills, as goes with any mega state-sponsored event. The media kit contained a unique product, a water bottle made of bamboo and paper, perhaps encouraging an organic way of life. The bottle also had the logos of 'Invest Karnataka' and the State Government pasted on it. It was believed to be the 'noble' creation of a Karnataka-based individual or firm, keeping in sync with the state's manufacturing prowess. Interestingly though, when it was turned around, lo! Made in Taiwan!

CM's blessings

While his father, Industry minister Murugesh Nirani, was busy making arrangements to host the Global Investors Meet in Bengaluru, his son Vijay Nirani, who was part of the delegates, was seen on the stage taking blessings of Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and Union Industry Minister Piyush Goyal.

Business of the future

Vikram Kirloskar from Kirloskar Systems Ltd was a speaker representing industry. During the GIM inauguration, before beginning his speech, he looked at the other industrialists sitting on the dias and said, "Many of them are my daughter's friends. May be the next time, I will be sitting down to listen to the next generation," he said.

State pushing hard to promote tourism

Bosky Khanna @ Bengaluru: The State Government seems to be going all out to make the most of the three-day GIM, not just to showcase the state's industry-friendly ecosystem, but also what it has to offer in tourism. Even before the start of the investors' meet, delegates from other states and abroad were taken to various tourist destinations in the state. "Delegates attend sessions at GIM only for a day or for a few hours each day. A few delegates from Ireland, Poland and South Korea and industrialists from other states have already visited prime destinations, like Kabini and Daroji of Jungle Lodges and Resorts and Hampi," an official said. The destinations include Shravanabelagola, Hampi, Belur, Halebidu, Aihole, Chikkamagaluru, Mysuru, Vijayapura, Kalaburagi, Kodagu, Managaluru, Gokarna, Yana, Murudeshwar, Udupi and forest safaris at Bandipur, Nagarahole and BRT tiger reserves. "The package tours have been designed in such a way that participants can club holiday with work. Many destinations are already full," the official added.

JSW Group plans to invest ₹1L-cr more

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

THE JSW Group, which has so far invested Rs 1 lakh crore in Karnataka, has said it plans to invest an additional Rs 1 lakh crore over the next five years in all its businesses in the state. JSW Group chairman Sajjan Jindal said at the Global Investors Meet on Wednesday that this includes investment in steel, green energy, cement, paints and a new greenfield port in Karnataka.

He also requested the Karnataka government to consider mineral resource auctions. "Mineral auctions will further encourage investments in the manufacturing sector and support Karnataka's growth trajectory," he added.

K'taka reflects policies of Centre: Nirmala

LAST month, India overtook the UK to emerge as the fifth-largest economy, and is predicted to become the third largest by 2029, according to reports. Accordingly, the country is eyeing investments and to grow as a leading manufacturing hub globally.

"Amidst the uncertainty, when industries are moving out of destinations such as China and Europe, it is important to note that they are heading to areas which are attractive, other than just for tax incentives," the FM said. Referring to Karnataka as an ideal investment destination, Nirmala said, "The economy now is very attractive for investors, and Karnataka has carefully reflected the policies of the Centre, and has always made sure that policy consistency is maintained." She said when GIM was initially planned, the investment expectation was around Rs 5 lakh crore. "Today, that has moved upwards in the range of about Rs 7.5 lakh crore, of which, the chief minister has already cleared Rs 2.8 lakh crore-worth proposals. Unlike sometimes when we hear MoUs getting signed or being realised in part, we are here understanding that MoUs are already being given the clearance by the state government. As a result, even on the day that this meet happens, based on the original target, more that 50% of the MoUs have already been cleared.

ICATT TEAMS UP WITH HEALTH DEPT FOR AIR AMBULANCE SERVICE

Bosky Khanna @Bengaluru: Icatt Foundation, an air ambulance service provider, is partnering with the state health department to offer free service for government referred patients. Earlier, the plan was to work with the 108 ambulance service, but after it ran into contract issues, the idea was dropped and direct partnership with the government was taken up, said an Icatt official. Icatt is one of the participants at the Global Investors' Meet, looking at more partnerships. Dr Shalini Nalwad, Chairperson, Icatt Foundation, said work with the government is being undertaken, infrastructure is already in place, and two or three airlifts are done in a week. The official said procedural issues are being resolved for the project. So far, 1,500 airlifts have been done in five years.

Unfinished canal work becomes rallying point

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR @Ballari

BALLARI district in-charge minister B Sriramulu's plan to sleep at a site where a canal is being repaired near Ballari to speed up the works has now taken a political turn, with Congress MLA from Ballari Rural Nagendra too visiting the spot. Sriramulu visited the BD Halli Vedavati river bridge construction site after residents complained about the delay in the work. Representatives of the company that has taken up the work told Sriramulu that the work would be completed within a fortnight. Sriramulu told them he will stay at the site till the work is over. He later performed a pujal, had food with workers and also slept at the spot.

Minister B Sriramulu at the canal site

"I am not putting pressure on anybody. During the recent rain, the bridge was damaged and the repair works are going on slowly. I am here to oversee the work and be with the workers," Sriramulu said.

"If the work is delayed, it is not possible to provide water to agricultural fields of Hagari village and surroundings. We are talking about standing crops in 3 lakh hectares where farmers are in dire need of water from the canal. I was awake past midnight on Tuesday and the work was going on," he said.

"We will soon construct a new bridge and both Karnataka and Andhra Pradesh will bear the expenses. The total budget of the new bridge will be around Rs 400-500 crore. I hope that the CMs of both states will discuss the issue," he added. Nagendra said the repair site is under his area and there was nothing political about his visit. "We hope farmers will benefit soon," he added.

Muddahanume to join BJP today

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

FORMER Congress MP Muddahanume Gowda, who sacrificed the Tumakuru Lok Sabha seat for the Congress-JDS alliance candidate and former prime minister H D Deve Gowda in 2019, is set to join the BJP at the party office here on Thursday.

Though he was the incumbent MP, he had to make way for Gowda, who however, lost the seat to BJP candidate G S Basavaraju. Since then, Muddahanume Gowda distanced himself from the Congress, and there was also an allegation that he had joined hands with former MLA K N Rajanna of the Congress to defeat Deve Gowda. For Muddahanume Gowda, political life has come full circle. He was with the JDS and had contested the 2009 LS polls on the party ticket, but had lost. On his wish, the JDS issued him the 'B' form to contest the 2013 assembly polls from Kunigal, but later withdrew him from the contest.

Gowda told The New Indian Express that he would be joining the BJP unconditionally, in the presence of Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and BJP State President Nalinkumar Kateel.

DMK alliance to approach President, seek Guv recall

RN Ravi had accused govt of delay in transferring blast case to NIA

S KUMARESAN @Chennai

UPPING the ante against the Tamil Nadu governor, the ruling DMK and its allies will be approaching the President soon with a memorandum signed by all its MPs demanding the immediate withdrawal of RN Ravi from the post. This comes days after the governor alleged the TN government had delayed transferring the probe into the Coimbatore blast to the National Investigation Agency.

Former union minister and DMK Lok Sabha floor leader TR Baalu has been tasked with getting the signatures of MPs and handing over the memorandum to the President at the earliest. Baalu, on Tuesday, wrote to all DMK MPs and leaders of alliance parties urging them to sign the document by Thursday, party sources said.

According to sources in the DMK, the memorandum argues for Governor Ravi to be recalled on the ground that he is preventing the elected government from performing its duties by not approving Bills passed by the Assembly.

The memorandum contends that by failing to approve the Bills, the governor has become a hurdle to the State government's efforts to fulfil the demands of the people who voted for it.

Baalu will be seeking an appointment with the President once all members have signed and will meet her with a delegation of MPs.

The DMK-led Secular Progressive Alliance, which includes the Congress, both Left parties, IUML, MDMK, KDMK and VCK, has 38 MPs in the Lok Sabha and 12 in the Rajya Sabha. Of the 50 MPs, all but IJK MP Dr TR Paarivendhar, who contested on the DMK symbol but later left the alliance, are expected to sign. As on Wednesday, at least 10 MPs had already signed the document.

DIDI CALLS ON STALIN

West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee called on her Tamil Nadu counterpart M K Stalin in Chennai on Wednesday and said development is bigger than politics. Stalin said nothing was discussed about politics or polls, apparently hinting at the 2024 Lok Sabha election. He said Banerjee's visit was a "courtesy call". He said he has accepted her invite to visit Kolkata as her guest. Following about 20-minute meeting, the two leaders spoke to reporters. Srirangapatna Masjid row: 108 people to file plea in High Court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mysuru

AFTER several protests and submission of memorandums to the authorities concerned, Bajarang Sene and several pro-Hindu outfits have decided to take up a legal fight in the Srirangapatna Jama Masjid row.

President of Bajarang Sene B Manjunath said as authorities failed to come out with a solution, he, along with several other pro-Hindu members, has decided to file a petition in the High Court in a few days.

"We have been arguing that the mosque has been constructed by razing down a temple and it should be handed back to us. But, the government has failed to respond despite protests. So, we have now decided to file a petition in the High Court. There are 108 people ready to file the petition," he said, adding that the number 108 is significant and auspicious in the Hindu religious scriptures.

He said along with the petition, various evidences including photographs and mentioning about the episode of razing down of the temple which has been documented by several Britishers and also in the Mysore gazette will be submitted.

Over the last couple of months, pro-Hindu outfits have been protesting over the mosque row and as a preventive measure, police and the taluk administration had also imposed prohibitory orders in the month of June this year.

TOUGHER STEPS MUST TO DEAL WITH CHILD SEXUAL ABUSE

The sexual assault on a four-and-a-half-year-old kindergarten student at a school in the posh Banjara Hills in Hyderabad has once again highlighted what could only be termed the epidemic of child sexual abuse in our society. In this case, the accused is the driver of the principal, who had a free run ostensibly because of a staff shortage. A few days later, the alleged rape of two orphan girls, including a minor, at a shelter home, came to light. The state’s response to both instances is on the expected lines. In the first one, the school education department cancelled the school’s license even as the accused were arrested, only to roll back the decision under pressure from parents of other students who were rightly worried about the future of their wards. In the second, the accused was apprehended, and it appears we are back to business as usual.

It is time the authorities wake up to the increasing number of sexual crimes against children. Enough of these knee-jerk reactions which are of no use to anyone except the authorities. We can have laws such as the POCSO Act, but their enforcement is insufficient. If one were to go by the NCRB data, 53,874 cases were registered under the Act in 2021. In Telangana, nearly 2,000 cases were reported last year, up from 1200-odd the previous year. At a cursory glance, it is obvious that the crime graph is going up, and the statistics are not reflective of reality as many cases go unreported. In the aftermath of the child rape case, Education Minister Sabitha Indra Reddy announced a committee to recommend measures to prevent such incidents. This is a familiar playbook of all governments.

Many studies have been conducted worldwide, and their recommendations are simple: Sensitise parents, teachers and healthcare professionals and institute a mechanism to make the places children frequent safer. In this respect, we must look at recruitment in schools, colleges, and others. What is the point of having a sexual offenders list if it is restricted to law enforcement authorities? Why not cross-check it before recruitment? Lastly, child rape victims must be provided with psychological and other help as the trauma could haunt them for the rest of their lives. We need a system that encompasses all these aspects.

KERALA’S PENSION AGE U-TURN BAD FOR FINANCES

The Kerala government’s knee-jerk reaction of freezing the decision to raise the retirement age to 60 in public sector units is the latest example of political considerations reigning supreme over practical wisdom. The finance department issued an order on October 29 to increase the pension age in state-run PSUs, excluding Kerala State Electricity Board, Kerala State Roads Transport Corporation, and Kerala Water Authority. As expected, there was a hue and cry from youth organisations aligned with the opposition parties, which took out protest marches to the secretariat. CPM’s youth organisation, DYFI, too, jumped onto the bandwagon after CPI-affiliated AIYF demanded the scrapping of the decision. The government promptly succumbed to the pressure, ignoring the financial realities.

It’s not that the political class isn’t aware of the swelling wage and pension bill draining the exchequer. The government is borrowing heavily to pay salaries and pensions. And the October 29 order was a small step in the right direction. With the rise in life expectancy, the proportion of the elderly has been increasing, adding to the financial burden because pensions need to be paid for longer. There is another realisation that the experience gained by a person on the job is wasted if the person retires early. All these concerns, expressed by the Employees Provident Fund Organisation recently and mentioned in the Economic Survey of 2018–19, have prompted the governments to reconsider pension strategies.

Kerala has the highest life expectancy in the country and the lowest retirement age. But any announcement to increase the pension age is greeted with suspicion and resentment. The youth’s fear of losing job opportunities is often cited for scuttling any attempt to revise the retirement age. The parties concerned have yet to care to undertake a scientific study to measure the exact impact of the revision. There is also pressure on the government to bring back the statutory pension scheme done away with in 2013. This would be suicidal for Kerala in its current financial condition. Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan is known for his ‘no-nonsense’ approach to crucial issues. But at times, he is forced to return to his old self as CPM state secretary who succumbs to pressure from party die-hards. What is expected from the chief minister at this juncture is not populism that would fetch cheers from the galleries but some bitter medicine that would lessen the burden on the strained finances.

QUICK TAKE

ROYALS IN POSITIVE LIGHT

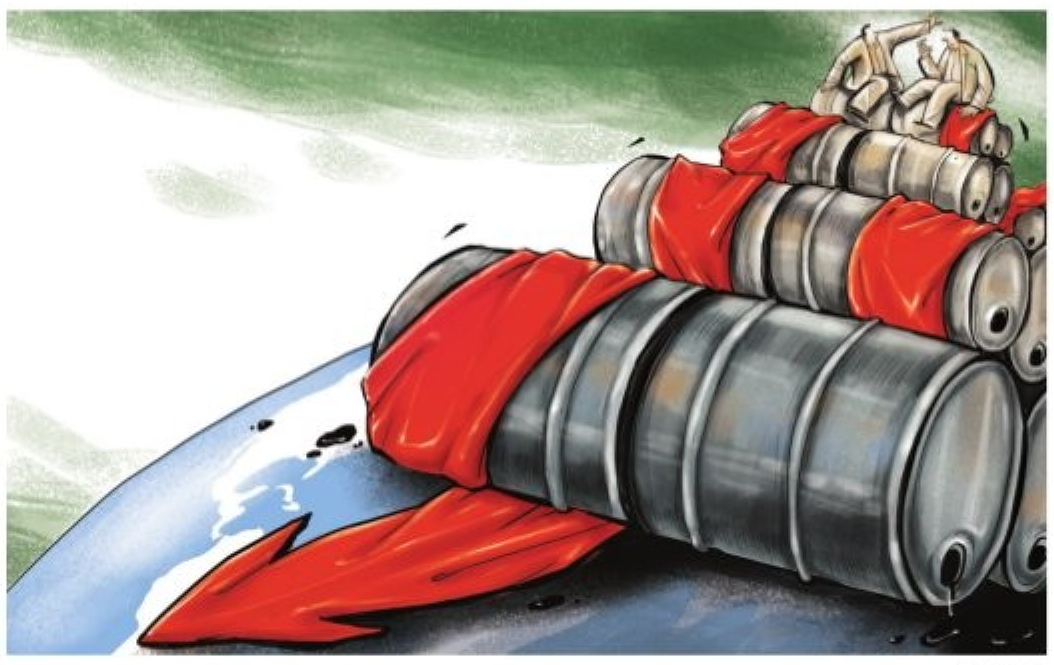
A museum of royal kingdoms is on the anvil near the Statue of Unity in Gujarat to recognise the contribution of former princely states in joining India in 1947. It will showcase their efforts to patronise art and culture and introduce access to modern education in their kingdoms. This is in contrast to public perception that most of them were British stooges. There exists a recorded subaltern history of the persecution of the poorer classes under these regimes. Royal facts and folklore revolve around their tax drives to finance their expensive tastes and whims. A reappraisal is not that easy.

As geopolitics rules, friends become foes, and enemies come closer. Some leaders are in trouble, even as hubris grips others. The political domino effect is visible

GEOPOLITICS OF OIL: ECONOMIES CAUGHT IN VICIOUS CYCLE

ALAM SRINIVAS

Independent journalist and author



SOURAV ROY

Where and how to begin this story? The ‘where’ is crucial as this tale crisscrosses continents and nations. The ‘how’ is critical as geopolitical tsunamis fracture friendships and help foes become friends. The political domino effect is visible with the fall of a few leaders. Yet, others become more ambitious, more arrogant, and full of hubris. The eye of the storm lies in disruptive economic disruptions. They were caused by pandemic shocks, followed by post-pandemic price rises due to diverting governments’ stimulus packages into stocks, real estate, and pent-up demand. The Russia-Ukraine war adds more fuel to the ravaging fire.

The Russia-Ukraine war has pushed and pulled oil between $60 and $120 a barrel in the past 12 months. Russia, the second-largest crude exporter after Saudi Arabia and the largest exporter of natural gas, supplies 27% and 40%, respectively, of the EU’s demand. The EU’s ban on Russian oil from the sea, and the decision by Poland and Germany to end flows via pipelines, will curb 90% of Russian imports. Gas will flow, but Germany froze plans for a new bilateral pipeline. Europe may be in the grip of a really cold winter, coupled with skyrocketing prices. The short-term options, states a UN study: seek non-Russian sources, reduce demand, and pursue energy efficiency.

Gas producers can reduce flaring; the UN report states that half of it “happens within 20 km of pipelines”. The sellers can earn $90 billion if they tap the waste. An expert in McKinsey, a global think-tank, feels the EU can fill storage capacities before winter. Japan and South Korea can divert strategic reserves meant for emergencies to Europe and Asia. Central Asia can be a game-changer. A blog on the Atlantic Council website explains that if gas from Azerbaijan and Turkmenistan reaches Turkey, it will free up Turkey’s imports of liquefied natural gas (LNG). As per McKinsey, LNG is expensive and can punch a $78-billion hole in the EU’s pockets.

Iran, a former rogue nation, will play a significant role thanks to its energy swap arrangements with Azerbaijan, Turkmenistan and Turkey. In addition, Europe will push back ‘Climate Change’ targets, revive coal-fired power plants, and delay nuclear power shutouts. Belgium deferred its nuclear deadline (2025) by a decade. Germany will not adhere to its plan to eliminate nuclear power (2022) and coal-fired units (2038). ‘Green’ initiatives (solar, electric, and other renewable sources) now seem like costly “children’s games”.

This emerging and delicate but fast-changing equilibrium went for a toss because of OPEC+, an energy producers’ cartel led by Saudi Arabia and Russia. It decided to curb oil production. Saudi Arabia dubbed this a pragmatic move in anticipation of a global recession. But King Mohammed bin Salman (MBS) wants higher crude prices for personal and financial reasons. MBS aims to pitch the capital, Riyadh, as a counter to Dubai. His dream to build a trillion-dollar “futuristic desert” city, Neom, hopes to wrest regional socio-economic power away from the UAE.

The Saudi King wishes to escape the stranglehold of boom and bust cycles in the energy sector. The downward spiral happened during the global recession in 2008 and in 2016, when oil prices crashed below $30. After eight years of budget deficits, states a piece on the CNN website, Saudi Arabia may show a surplus this year. But only if oil remains above $79, says an IMF report. Since MBS’ visit to Moscow in 2017, he and Russia’s Vladimir Putin evolved “converging grand strategies” towards a multi-polar world where the US is one of the major superpowers.

MBS is “ready to say no to America”, believes an Emirati political scientist. Accusations that MBS was behind the murder of Saudi journalist Jamal Khashoggi in 2018, the US’ proximity to Saudi’s arch regional rival, Iran, the West’s criticism of the Saudi-Yemen war, and meddling in MBS’ palace intrigues have worsened the growing disconnect with the US, an ally of nearly eight decades.

Joe Biden, the US President, called MBS a “pariah” during election speeches, made a volte-face, visited Saudi Arabia before the recent OPEC+ production cut, and later warned about “consequences” for what Saudi Arabia did. He claimed that the cuts were made to shore up Putin’s coffers through higher crude prices. Democrat supporters charge that MBS wants to help political opponents, Republicans, in the domestic mid-term elections in November 2022.

Local American politics is an issue. Saudi revealed that Biden asked MBS to postpone the cuts by a month or nearer to the mid-term elections. Biden loyalists contend that the few weeks’ delays were to see how oil prices moved. This angered Republicans. Fox News blamed Biden’s “extremist green agenda” for high retail prices. Republicans claim that Democrats shut down energy leases in the country and held back production. This may not be true, and one of the largest offshore leases in the Gulf of Mexico last year was blocked by a federal court.

Russia is walking a dangerous yet calculated tightrope. A study predicts that Putin can lose $1.4 trillion due to losses from lower exports of fossil fuels. This will lead to a negative GDP growth of 9.6% in 2022, as per an article on a website that deals with research in power and technology.

Russia diversified buyers, roping in India and China with discounted prices. But this may not be enough. According to a website on EU diplomacy, as China tightens supplies from Russia, it may be tougher to import from pro-West nations. India wants to keep Russia, the US, the EU, and the Middle East happy.

According to another website, since the western sanctions after Russia annexed Crimea in 2014, Putin used energy revenues to build foreign exchange reserves of $630 billion. Conservative fiscal policies enabled him to balance the budget based on an oil price of $45. Such measures, points out economic historian Adam Tooze, insulated the economy. So, the Kremlin can take the GDP shocks.

China, which has pursued slower growth rates in recent times, can withstand the tremors. India’s economy seems decoupled from politics, and the ruling regime is less bothered about GDP. But can the rest of the world cushion itself from fuel, food, and human costs? The UN study states, “A vicious cycle of the increasing cost of living and rising poverty and social discontent is unfolding in many countries….”

CRITICAL ISSUES BEFORE CLIMATE MEET FOR A CLEANER EARTH

PROSENJIT DATTA

Former editor, commentator on economic issues

The 27th United Nations Climate Change Conference (COP27) will commence this coming Sunday in Sharm el-Sheikh, Egypt. Leaders and senior government functionaries from across the globe will gather to discuss and debate climate change targets and their financing, implementation and other such matters over the next two weeks. Hopefully, the talks will take into account some of the major lessons that have come to the fore and provide a reality check for climate policymakers.

Coal energy cannot be wished away just yet: Last year, many developed nations took a hard stance against thermal power generation. India and China were criticised for moderating the phrase used in the final declaration from “phase out coal” to “phase down coal”.

Since then, almost all developed countries have figured out that coal might be polluting, but in times of crisis, it is more reliable than some of the cleaner options.

The Russia-Ukraine war, in particular, has forced European countries, often considered to be at the forefront of climate change action, to go back to coal as they prioritise energy security over fuel sources.

Germany, often considered the poster boy of clean energy adoption, was aggressively planning to decommission its thermal power plants before the Russia-Ukraine war. In the middle of the year, uncertain about the reliability of its gas supplies, it restarted mothballed coal plants. The energy firm RWE is dismantling a small wind farm to expand its lignite mines for thermal plants. Germany is still talking about phasing out coal by 2030, but that depends on gas supplies to western Europe going back to normal.

Clean energy generation is running far ahead of storage: Solar and wind capacities worldwide are increasing exponentially. But green energy generation is unreliable—one reason is that in most parts of the world, they are paired with power plants using gas as fuel. Giant battery storage needed to make green energy a more practical option has lagged behind renewable generation capacities.

Battery storage is currently over-reliant on Lithium-Ion batteries, and the costs of big batteries that can power a city or even a small town for several weeks during bad weather is not practical right now. No doubt the storage technology will catch up—breakthroughs in battery chemistry are reported almost daily. But moving beyond laboratory demonstrations to large-scale practical solutions that are also cost-effective is still some time away. And that is why transitioning from hydrocarbon fuels to entirely renewable and clean energy will take time.

Even clean energy has a dirty footprint: China is the largest supplier of solar panels. While it is also adopting renewables, much of its power is also powered by dirty coal. Many factories churning out solar panels get their power from coal-fired plants. More importantly, the current battery technologies have raised uncomfortable questions about their environmental footprint.

FILE PICTURE

Even clean energy has a dirty footprint: China is the largest supplier of solar panels. While it is also adopting renewables, much of its power is powered by dirty coal

Most current batteries are based on Li chemistries and require other minerals such as cobalt. The world’s largest proven lithium supplies are concentrated in the “Lithium Triangle” area. It is in the Andes region that spans the borders of Chile, Bolivia and Argentina. It is estimated that 58% of the world’s known lithium resources are in this area. Apart from that, Australia is a big producer but as the demand for batteries is shooting up, so is the mining in the lithium triangle. The bulk of the world’s cobalt deposits is in the Democratic Republic of Congo. China and the western powers are jostling for lithium and cobalt mines.

But as lithium and cobalt extraction goes up, it is also becoming apparent that the underdeveloped and developing countries with rich mines are paying the price for the adoption of EVs by developed countries. Mining is never a clean activity, and it is taking its toll on the environment of poor countries with rich deposits.

These minerals are available in rich countries as well. The US has significant lithium reserves, but its environmental regulations make it difficult to extract these easily and cheaply.

Meanwhile, lithium-processing capacities are largely concentrated in China. Lithium processing again has a significant environmental footprint. Western countries have turned a blind eye to the environmental damage caused by mining and lithium processing because these are not within their borders. But climate change is a global problem, and you cannot contain its impact within artificial geographical borders.

The oceans are not indestructible: There are two parts to the climate battle. The first, which gets a fair amount of attention, involves taking steps to reduce emissions—by using renewable and clean energy sources.

The other part of the equation is about how to deal with the gases being emitted into the atmosphere. Carbon sinks that can absorb carbon dioxide and other gases leading to global warming are the solution here. The biggest carbon sinks are still found naturally—in forests and oceans.

While the depletion of forest cover gets quite a lot of attention in the media and among policymakers, oceans have been ignored till recently. That is because oceans seemed to have a limitless capacity to absorb emissions without noticeable change. But as scientists have started measuring and tracking ocean damage better, concerns about pH changes and the harm done to marine creatures are coming to the fore. From genetic damage to behaviour changes in fishes, a lot is being traced back to the damage the oceans are suffering because of their use as carbon sinks.

There are many things, of course, that COP27 can discuss and debate. But these are four important issues they will need to understand and consider while planning for a cleaner Earth.

The Liberal and Indian culture

The column Sunak paradox grips the Indian liberal (Nov 2) makes for interesting reading. The class that leaned towards English culture was created during British rule and has not been able to shake those conventions off even now. In fact, they take pride in it and are obsessed with the British way of life, failing to assimilate into Indian culture.

A M Chakravarty, Hyderabad

Kohli’s privacy

Apropos of Kohli’s privacy breach deplorable and scary (Nov 2). It is sad to read about the uncultured behaviour of the employee who invaded Kohli’s privacy. Developed countries like Australia are known for their ethics so this incident is shocking. The hotel management should ensure that such events do not take place again.

V K S Krishnan, Kumbakonam

Shameful breach

Imagine if people started doing this to female celebrities as well. When someone checks into a room, their privacy is sacred and must not be invaded. Kohli’s belongings were still in the room when the fan filmed it. This incident is shameful to say the least and crossed all lines of decency.

Tithi Trivedi, Ujjain

Munugode bypoll

Apropos of High-stakes Munugode campaign ends (Nov 2). The little box within this news called ‘Money’Gode’ which states that ₹1000 cr was spent by various parties in the Munugode bypoll, demonstrates how these parties are so corrupt and do not hesitate to spend crores in order to regain power. This truly reflects that “real democracy” has still not been achieved even after 75 years of Independence. The Election Commission should have more powers to rein in parties.

R J Janardhana Rao, Hyderabad

Kejriwal in a fix

Apropos of Delhi L-G acts on Sukesh letter, seeks probe (Nov 2). Arvind Kejriwal ridiculed the BJP, saying it is the latter’s poll strategy to divert the attention of the Gujarat voters from issues like the bridge collapse and other grievances. But Kejriwal should be able to prove his point with evidence like Sukesh did.

China’s sympathy

Xi Jinping has expressed ‘shock’ over the Morbi bridge collapse. China is notorious for poor quality of goods and services. If the Morbi accident has given a jolt to the president of that country, one can imagine how good the bridge contractor’s workmanship is!

DRDO tests long-range interceptor missile

Only a select few countries have such ballistic missile technology

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

INDIA plugs the gaps in its security umbrella against the ballistic missile attacks with the Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO) conducting a successful maiden flight-test on Wednesday.

The Ministry of Defence announced that Phase-II Ballistic Missile Defence (BMD) interceptor AD-1 missile with large kill altitude bracket was successful and the test was conducted from APJ Abdul Kalam Island off the coast of Odisha on Wednesday.

The Ministry of Defence said, "The AD-1 is a long-range interceptor missile designed for both low exo-atmospheric and endo-atmospheric interception of long-range ballistic missiles as well as aircraft."

"The flight test was carried out with participation of all BMD weapon system elements located at different geographical locations, added the MoD.

During the flight-test, all the sub-systems performed as per expectations and were validated by the data captured by a number of range sensors including Radar, Telemetry and Electro Optical Tracking stations deployed to capture the flight data.

Defence Analyst A. Vinod Kumar calls it an important step in plugging the gaps against the missiles and those mainly from China. The first test in 2014 was a failure with a partial success achieved during the test conducted in 2017.

"This is an attempt to strike down longer range and faster missiles of China which should be intercepted into outer space before re-entry into our space. It has to be as far out as possible as will be nuclear tipped missiles. We so far had endo Atmospheric Prithvi and Advance Air Defence System. This might be using the Agni Platforms to achieve long range interception," added Vinod.

Exo-atmospheric is beyond 100kms altitude and the missiles able to bring down the missile at lesser altitude are called the endo-atmospheric.

The AD-1 test missile is propelled by a two-stage solid motor and equipped with indigenously-developed advanced control system, navigation and guidance algorithm to precisely guide the vehicle to the target.

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh congratulated DRDO and other teams associated with successful flight trial of AD-1. He termed it as a unique type of interceptor with advanced technologies available with a very few nations in the world. He exuded confidence that it will further strengthen the country's BMD capability to the next level.

Secretary, Department of Defence R&D and Chairman, DRDO Dr Samir V Kamat congratulated his team on the successful trial, stating that this interceptor will provide great operational flexibility to the users and having capability to engage many different types of targets.

BIHAR, RAF

In a first, two women CRPF officers to head sectors

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE lead internal Security Force Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF) has for the first time not only promoted its two lady cadre officers to the rank of Inspector General but have also put them to command two sensitive sectors of the force.

Seema Dhundia and Ms Annie Abraham with their accompanying 35 years of experience will be heading the Bihar Sector and as the head of the Rapid Action Force (RAF) respectively.

Both Seema Dhundia and Ms Annie Abraham were amongst the first batch of lady officers ever inducted into the Force as they joined as the Directly Appointed Gazetted Officers (DAGos) of 1987 batch of CRPF Cadre officers in 1987.

The CRPF in a statement said, "Both had illustrious careers marked with challenging roles, achievements, and laurels. Seema Dhundia, IG rendered her valuable services to the nation in highly sensitive areas across the country and was actively involved in raising the 2nd Mahila Battalion of the Force. She was also the contingent commander of the first ever all female Formed Police Unit (FPU) in the United Nation's Mission in Liberia and had been serving as DIG in RAF."

India sent an all-female Formed Police Unit (FPU) to be deployed in Liberia in 2007 after a civil war ravaged the African nation.

The RAF is a specialized wing of the CRPF for riot and crowd control is getting IG Annie Abraham as its first female head since its raising in 1992. Ms. Annie Abraham, IG in addition to commanding the all female FPU in UN Mission in Liberia, had served as DIG Intelligence in Force Headquarters, as DIG Ops in Kashmir Operations Sector and as DIG CR and Vigilance.

Both the officers have been awarded President's Police Medal for distinguished Service, Police Medal for Meritorious service and Ati Utkrisht Sewa Padak besides numerous other national and International recognitions.

'Misconceived': SC junks plea against Chandrachud

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday rejected a plea seeking to restrain Justice DY Chandrachud from taking oath as 50th CJI on November 9, 2022. A bench of CJI UU Lalit, Justices SR Bhat and Bela M Trivedi termed the plea as "misconceived".

"We see no reason to entertain the plea. The plea is misconceived and it's therefore dismissed," the bench said.

The plea was filed by Mursalin Asijith Shaikh on the basis of a complaint preferred by Rashid Khan Pathan who levelled allegations of "misuse of office" against the SC judge. Although Shaikh's plea was not listed before the bench originally but upon being mentioned, the bench decided to take up the same.

While expressing his reservations with regards to CJI UU Lalit hearing the plea, the counsel said, "There is likelihood of conflict of interest since CJI UU Lalit had recommended the name of justice as his successor."

"Why will there be conflict of interest? We're only on the point whether you've made out the case or not," CJI UU Lalit remarked.

In an attempt to persuade the judges, the counsel argued that a bench headed by Justice Chandrachud acceded to a senior counsel's request of tagging his plea in a case related to Covid vaccination. He also contended that a bench headed by the judge also considered a plea against Bombay HC's ruling in which his son had appeared. Unimpressed by the submissions, the bench while terming the plea as 'misconceived' junked the plea.

On being informed that the centre was looking into the matter, a bench of Justices S Abdul Nazeer and V Ramasubramanian acceded to AG's request of granting more time. "You please examine. Inter-faith marriage: HC to hear foreigners' plea

ANUP VERMA @ New Delhi

THE Delhi High Court on Wednesday agreed to hear a petition filed by two foreign nationals, who sought solemnization and registration of their marriage under the Indian marriage law pertaining to inter-faith couples. One of the petitioners is a Hindu Canadian citizen who holds an OCI card and the other is a Christian American citizen.

Justice Yashwant Varma allowed the counsels for the petitioners as well as the Delhi government to file their submissions. "It is not possible for the State to prevent any inter-faith couple to marry," the court observed.

However, the court questioned whether just because the petitioners residing here would entitle them to claim the benefits under the Special Marriage Act. The counsel for the petitioner told the court that his clients, who belong to two different faiths, have been residing in Delhi for more than six months and intend to solemnize and register their marriage under the Special Marriage Act, but are unable to apply online as the website requires at least one of the parties to be an Indian.

The petitioners' lawyer submitted that one of his clients is an Overseas Citizen of India and the right to get married is part of the petitioners' right to life. The court fixed December 15 as the next date of hearing in the case.

She was determined to transform poor women into an organised force

SUDARSHAN IYAENGAR
Former vice chancellor of Gujarat Vidyapith

The passing of legendary Elaben Bhatt is untimely. She was 89. She lived a full life and enjoyed fairly good health. She took ill only a few months back and hence her departure is sudden and sad. A person of her stature, moral standing and sincerity is acutely required in today's turbulent times.

Elaben carried the Gandhi flame right from her childhood, the tradition coming from her family and especially her father. She was an extraordinarily sensitive child who was emotionally moved by the Freedom Movement. A pre-teen in 1942, she was deeply impressed by the Angrezo Bharat Chhodo movement. Not a conformist, Elaben was an extraordinary woman among women. Prof. Ramesh Bhatt, a thinking intellectual, nurtured and guided her after her marriage with him. She had the rare courage to rebel against the leadership of Majoor Mahajan Sangh a powerful labour union that was born with the blessings of Mahatma Gandhi. She had joined the organisation as a volunteer. She brought the case of women conducting their tiny business on the streets of Ahmedabad and home-based workers. The Majoor Mahajan Sangh refused to form a labour union of the women self-employed workers whose working conditions were worse than the labourers in the factory environment. She broke the convention and revolutionalised the concept of the labour union. Always, very particular about boldly pointing out that the Self-Employed Women's Association (SEWA) was a union and not a voluntary or Non-Government Organisation. SEWA was born as a membership-based union. It is a worldwide union now with more than a million women members. Such was her original and foundational creation of SEWA that it deservingly got national and international recognition.

ELA BHATT
SEPTEMBER 7, 1933 ● NOVEMBER 2, 2022

A very modest and sober person with steely determination, she mobilised working women of the world and networked with national and international organisations working for women's recognition as dignified economic workers contributing to the GDP in their respective countries. It was SEWA that first recognised the need for small loans required at very short notice and control of loan sharks in the cities. SEWA under Elaben's firm farsighted leadership fought another battle with the Reserve Bank of India for getting the SEWA Bank its due legal recognition. Not surprisingly, the Women's World Bank was formed and she headed it. She very easily gave up her leadership positions to the next generation and encouraged sharing and taking the work forward.

In the last decade of her life, she was deservingly invited to become the Chancellor of Gujarat Vidyapith, Ahmedabad, a university founded by Mahatma Gandhi. She felt very responsible holding the title that was once held by Gandhiji, Sardar Patel, Dr. Rajendra Prasad and Morarji Desai. She brought an original vision for Vidyapith relevant to current times. She said that Vidyapith should strive to become Roti Pith, Kapda Pith and Urjapith – the indigenous and Gandhian Mantra for the sustainable development of humanity. Through her vision for the Sabarmati Gandhi Ashram, she wanted to bring alive the core constructive programs that were once the mainstay of the Gandhi Ashram. Until last, she remained apprehensive about the Government's proposal to redevelop the Gandhi Ashram Precinct. She was for change but to her, it meant bringing back the message of simplicity, frugality and dignity in all the structures and ambience that would serve as a memorial and living demonstration of the work and values for which Gandhiji and his associates stood.

Elaben was a motherly figure soothing to all who approached her with all kinds of problems. She cared for people, she respected work and working people and she promoted sustainability in economics, society and in nature. Fear not, and hate not is the core message she carried. We need to do the same. Working for the last person would be to carry her legacy and that of the Gandhian legacy of which she was one of the most prominent torchbearers.

Rajputs rule in Himachal amid weakening regional divide

Five CMs have come from the community, influential SCs/STs hold key in many seats

HARPREET BAJWA @ Dharamsala

OVER 55 years after Himachal Pradesh was carved out by trifurcating Punjab, the state has had five Rajput chief ministers, with only Shanta Kumar, a Brahmin, having broken the tradition. That would mean the caste factor and the regional divide have played a key role in the state politics. That's why both the ruling BJP and opposition Congress have given party nominations to 28 candidates each from the Rajput community, which forms around 32% of the state population.

The state also has the second largest Schedule Caste population in the country – a little more than 25% of the state population of 68.64 lakh as per the 2011 Census. The hill state has 20 Assembly seats out of 68 reserved: 17% for the SCs and 3% for the STs. Besides the caste calculus, the regional divide between the upper and lower Himachal brings out the electoral peculiarities in the state.

As per 2011 Census, Sirmaur has 30% of the SC population. In September, the Union Cabinet approved a Constitution amendment bill that seeks to grant tribal status to the Hattis living in the trans-Giri region. This would benefit around 1.6 lakh people. However, the local ST community as well as political experts have opposed the ST status to the Hattis.

Then there is a regional divide between upper and lower Himachal. The former comprises Shimla, Sirmaur, Kullu, Lahaul and Spiti, Solan, Kinnaur and Chamba districts. Lower Himachal has Una, Bilaspur, Kangra, Hamirpur and areas in Mandi district.

The Congress has been strong in the upper region, which remains dominant in state politics as four out of six CMs came from this region.

"The SC community of Sirmaur is angry following the government move. But it will not have much impact on the Assembly polls as there is no mobilisation of the SCs,'' said a political analyst.

Unlike in other states where SCs' emergence on the political scene has given birth to caste-based parties, the community in Himachal first stuck on with the Congress and but gradually gravitated towards BJP.

Talking with this newspaper, Harish Thakur, professor of political science at Himachal Pradesh University at Shimla, said the regional influence has ceased to matter in the last few Assembly polls as both BJP and Congress have balanced out their strongholds. "The party that wins more seats in Kangra and Mandi districts will form the government. Issues like jobs, crime and corruption are not as significant as strong leadership, national security and Old Pension Scheme. The pension scheme in particular will influence the voters as there are around 2.50 lakh serving and lakhs of retired government staffers," he said. He added that the grant of ST status to the Hattis would have impact in three constituencies, giving BJP an advantage.

Significant SC count

Rajputs form around 32% of the state population of 69 lakh (as per 2011 census)

The state has had five Rajput CMs, with only Shanta Kumar, a Brahmin, being an exception

DECIDE

Himachal has second largest SC count in the country –more than 25% of the population

The state also has a regional divide between the upper and lower Himachal

> Issues like jobs and crime are not as significant as leadership, national security and Old Pension Scheme. The latter will hold sway as there are around 2.50 lakh serving and lakhs of retired government staff

Time to choose between corruption, progress: Shah

HARPREET BAJWA @ Dharamsala

Union Home Minister Amit Shah took a swipe at the Congress and also raised the Hindutva pitch during his poll rallies in Himachal Pradesh.

Addressing a rally here on Wednesday in support of BJP candidate Rakesh Chaudhary, Shah said that Prime Minister Narendra Modi was born in Gujarat but Himachal remained his 'karmabhoomi' as maximum development took place here. Asking people to choose between a "corrupt" Congress government or Modi's "politics of performance," Shah cited that under the Ayushman Bharat and Himcare schemes, 10 lakh families have been given free health cover up to ₹5 lakh, while 7lakh families got 5kg free ration per person for over two years during the pandemic. "Every house in the state has a toilet and power connection today," Shah said, mentioning the setting up of AIIMS, drug park and Atal Tunnel.

He also brought up the Ram Mandir issue, and said, "The Congress could not construct Ram Mandir in 60 years, while PM Narendra Modi started its work soon after being elected for a second term. Book your tickets for 2024 as by then the temple would be ready."

Attacking the grand old party, Shah said, "The Congress never seeks vote on the basis of performance. But I am here to give details about what the Narendra Modi-led central government and Jairam Thakur's state government has done for Himachal during the last five years."

Thackeray Jr steps up offensive against govt

Hardly any political leader confronts Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis. However, the row over big ticket projects moving out of Maharashtra has changed this status quo. Rising to the occasion, Aditya Thackeray has replied with facts to Fadnavis' questions. While a rather vocal Ajit Pawar, the Opposition leader, has chosen stay out of the ball game, it is Aditya who has saved the day for the opposition. Cornering the state, his crisis leadership has been evolving thanks to the mentorship of Shiv Sena veteran Subhash Desai. Aditya has also been garnering acceptance for upping the ante lately.

Congress plans mashal rally to welcome Rahul

Maharashtra Congress has been burning its midnight oil to make the Bharat Jodo Yatra a mega success in the state, where the Rahul Gandhi-led rally will crossover to the state on November 7. State Congress netas have engrossed themselves in the preparations and has been scrambling to make sure that all work be completed on time. Gandhi's yatra will cover in Maharashtra for 14 days. While the arrangements are already grand, state Congress netas are vying to make even more noise as they plan a four-km mashal rally (flame torch rally) to welcome Gandhi at the Maharashtra-Telangana border.

Only Guj bridge floor changed, not its cables

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

THE ongoing probe into the Morbi bridge tragedy prima facie found a series of lapses in its renovation, including failure to carry out its structural audit, poor choice of materials and the absence of an emergency rescue and evacuation plan.

Public prosecutor Harsendu Panchal flagged them to press for remand of all the nine accused arrested in the case. But Chief Judicial Magistrate M J Khan remanded four of them — two managers of the Oreva group and two sub-contractors who had repaired the bridge — in police custody till Saturday.

Panchal told this newspaper on Wednesday that prima facie the cables of the bridge were left untouched; only its wooden flooring was replaced with aluminum sheet. "The cables could have given way due to the additional weight of aluminum. It is a matter of investigation,'' he said he told the court on Tuesday.

Additional Public Prosecutor Morbi Harshendu Panchal said the contract was awarded to Oreva, which assigned it to two unqualified persons. This was the third time Oreva bagged its renovation and maintenance contract.

A forensics lab (FSL) report submitted in court said the four main cables of the bridge were old. "In the FSL report, IO (Investigating Officer) said that the cable (of bridge) was rusting away. Prima facie, FSL officer says that it was an old cable. IO says only flooring of the bridge and not the cables were changed. Oiling-greasing, too, wasn't done. Besides, the contractors did not have the necessary domain know-how,'' Panchal said.

Anchor pin

Due to the extra weight of revellers, the anchor pin of the bridge at the Darbargarh end of the bridge broke. "The anchor pin capacity was 125, but more than 350 were on the bridge on Sunday when it the bridge gave way," a police officer said

After Modi-Gehlot bonhomie in rally, Pilot seeks action against CM

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

CONGRESS leader Sachin Pilot finally broke his silence on Wednesday and made a direct attack on Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot for the first time in the midst of the ongoing political turmoil in the Rajasthan party unit. Taking a jibe at Prime Minister Narendra Modi's praise of Gehlot, Pilot said that the PM had earlier said good things about Ghulam Nabi Azad in the same way, and everyone knows what happened later. Reacting to Pilot's statement, Gehlot cited AICC organization secretary KC Venugopal's directive asking leaders not to make statements against each other.

Pilot targeted Gehlot while speaking to the media in Jaipur on Wednesday. "Prime Minister Modi praised the chief minister on Tuesday. This is an interesting development. At one time PM Modi had also praised Ghulam Nabi Azad in Parliament and everyone knows what happened after that. It should not be taken so lightly," the former Rajasthan deputy CM said, referring to Azad's walking away from the Congress to form his new party.

Pilot also demanded action against all the three pro-Gehlot leaders who were accused of breaking the party discipline on September 25 when many Congress MLAs boycotted a CLP meet in the presence of two AICC observers in Jaipur.

"Notices were given to three people and their answers have also been given. Ours is a disciplined party and we have the same rules and regulations for all. Decisions should be taken quickly even on those notices as discipline is applicable to all. Khargeji has taken over, and a decision needs to be taken on the indiscipline that happened that day," added Pilot.

He also broke his silence on the issue of changing the chief minister and said that action should be taken on it soon. "KC Venugopal had said that it will be decided soon. We are all busy in elections, and soon the announcement of Gujarat elections will also be made. The entire issue of Rajasthan should be taken soon,'' he stressed, adding that AICC will also have to take the decision of "who has to sit on which post and what responsibility has to be given. Only 13 months are left for elections.''

Responding to Pilot, Gehlot also gave a piece of advice from Alwar. "Such statements should not be made. Our focus should be to put pressure on the central government on issues like inflation and violence. Our aim is that we form the government next time," he said.

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

IT'S been three months since eight former naval officers were mysteriously detained in Doha. All of them were working for a firm called Dahra Global Technologies and Consultancy and were reportedly engaged in conducting naval exercises.

Bihar's Sonepur gets back in the saddle for Asia's largest cattle fair

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

THE month-long hustle and bustle that was missing on the banks of the Ganga in Sonepur will return after two years this weekend. Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar will inaugurate Asia's biggest cattle fair in this small town on November 6.

The annual fair, which sees a large number of birds and animals being traded, could not be held during the last two years due to the pandemic.

Nitish will be inaugurating the fair after 17 years.

During the fair, a large number of devotees are also expected to gather to have a holy dip in the Ganga on the occasion of Kartik Purnima on November 8. The event is held on 500 acres of land near the confluence of the Ganga and Gandak rivers.

The district administration is currently busy in making arrangements. "Preparations are going on in full swing. Everything will be in place before Kartik Purnima," Divisional Commissioner Punam said.

The state government had banned elephant trade in 2015 here. In 2016, 13 elephants were brought but only for exhibition purposes. In 2007, 77 elephants were brought to the fair, while the number was 354 in 2004 – the highest so far.

The sale of animals at Sonepur is said to be a centuries-old practice. Horses and elephants for Emperor Chandragupta Maurya were said to be bought here. It is also believed that Emperor Akbar, Robert Clive of the East India Company and freedom fighter Babu Kunwar Singh had also visited the fair.

ISRAEL POLL RESULTS POINT TO NETANYAHU COMEBACK

Right-wing bloc led by former premier, on trial in three corruption cases, looks set to win 65 seats in the 120-member Knesset

TEL AVIV

ISRAEL'S former prime minister Benjamin Netanyahu was poised for a resounding victory on Wednesday as his coalition of right-wing religious parties was set to win a comfortable majority in the fifth election in four years, an outcome that is likely to end the political impasse that had paralysed the country.

With some 86 % of the votes counted, the bloc led by 73-year-old Netanyahu was seen to be winning 65 seats, a comfortable majority in the 120-member Knesset or Parliament, but these numbers could change a little after the so-called double envelope votes are counted.

Israel's ex-premier and leader of the Likud party Benjamin Netanyahu and wife Sara address supporters at their campaign headquarters in Jerusalem | AFP

The Left wing Meretz party, which is hovering around the threshold mark but is still under it, has traditionally done well in these ballots and if it succeeds to cross the line then the Netanyahu bloc could get limited to 61-62 mark.

The so-called double-envelope ballots cast by members of security forces, prisoners, people with disabilities, diplomats serving abroad, and some others remain to be counted, election commission sources said.

The predominantly Arab party, Balad, is also close to the threshold mark but most of the analysts are giving it "almost no chance" of making it into the Knesset.

The exit polls projected pro-Netanyahu parties may win up to 65 seats in the 120-member Parliament. The alliance comprised Netanyahu's Likud party, far right religious Zionism/ Jewish Power, ultra-Orthodox parties Shas and United Torah Judaism.

The outcome would mark a stunning comeback for Netanyahu, who is currently on trial in three corruption cases, after a short stint in opposition.

Israelis voted on Tuesday for an unprecedented fifth time in four years to break the political impasse that has paralysed the country.

Netanyahu's Likud party is leading with 32 mandates. Yesh Atid remains at 24 mandates, Religious Zionist Party at 14, and the National Unity Party at 12. Shas dropped down to 11 mandates, and United Torah Judaism is at 8 mandates.

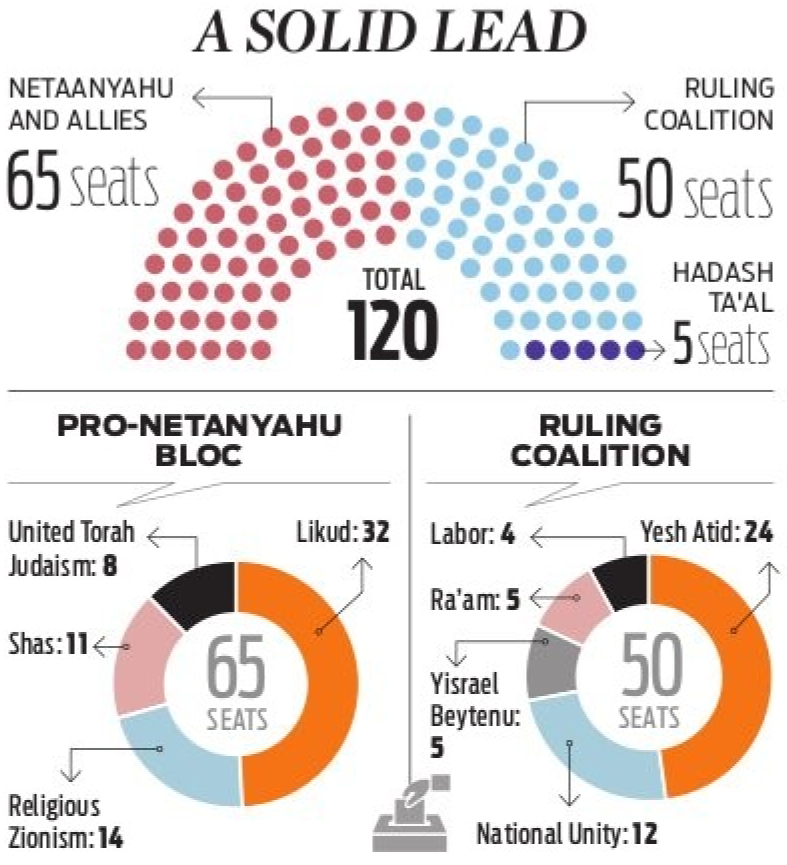
A sign of radicalised society: Palestine PM

The vote was held against a backdrop of soaring violence across Israeli-annexed east Jerusalem and the occupied West Bank. At least 29 Palestinians and three Israelis were killed in the territories in October. As the votes were being counted on Wednesday, Israeli troops killed a Palestinian in West Bank. While many candidates cited security as a concern, none pledged to revive peace talks with the Palestinians. Palestinian prime minister said the projected election results highlighted "growing extremism and racism in Israeli society".



North Korea fires more than 20 missiles

SEOUL

NORTH Korea fired more than 20 missiles Wednesday, including one that landed close to South Korea's waters in what President Yoon Suk-yeol said was "effectively a territorial invasion".

It also fired an artillery barrage into a maritime "buffer zone" that experts said was part of an "aggressive and threatening" response by Pyongyang to large-scale joint air drills the United States and South Korea are conducting.

One short-range ballistic missile crossed the Northern Limit Line, the de facto maritime border, prompting a rare warning for residents on the island of Ulleungdo to seek shelter in bunkers.

Seoul's military said it was the "first time since the peninsula was divided" at the end of Korean War hostilities in 1953 that a North Korean missile had landed so close to the South's territorial waters.

One of the missiles landed in waters just 57 kilometres east of the mainland, the military said, calling the incident "very rare and intolerable".

Pyongyang fired a total of 23 missiles including seven short-range ballistic missiles and six ground-to-air ones, Seoul's military said. North Korea also conducted an artillery barrage, firing into a maritime "buffer-zone" set up in 2018 in a bid to reduce tensions between the two countries during an ill-fated bout of diplomacy.

도 공습 경보…미사일은 공해상에 떨어져

The huge volley of launches were "provocations against South Korean", said Go Myong-hyun, a researcher at the Asan Institute for Policy Studies.

"I wouldn't be surprised if they lead up to a nuclear test," he added. South Korea, for its part, said it had fired three air-to-ground missiles into the sea towards the north of the two countries' maritime boundary.

The tests come as the White House accused North Korea of covertly shipping a 'significant number' of artillery shells to Russia in support of its invasion of Ukraine. National Security Council spokesman John Kirby said the US believes North Korea is 'trying to make it appear as though they're being sent to countries in the Middle East or North Africa.' He declined to provide a specific estimate on the quantity of ammunition sent to bolster Russia.

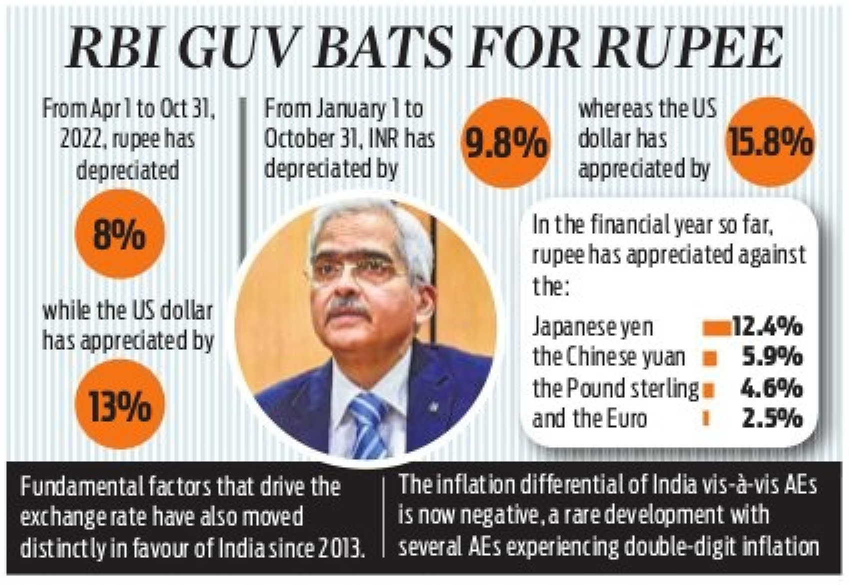
‘Re swing needs fact-based debate’

Story of currency movements since Ukraine war began is ‘about India’s resilience’: RBI Guv

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi



AMID the raging debate over rupee’s ‘unidirectional downward descent’ against the US dollar, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) Governor Shaktikanta Das on Wednesday said the issue needs to be addressed without emotions and with loads of facts.

Defending the local currency, the RBI Governor said the story of currency movements since the war began in Ukraine is ‘more about India’s resilience and stability in the face of the unrelenting strengthening of the US dollar rather than a story of weakness’.

Das, who was addressing an event in Mumbai, put forward the same defence (for rupee) that Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman had last month in the US, and for which she got trolled badly on social media.

“On a financial year basis -- from April 1 to October 31, 2022, – the rupee has depreciated by 8%. Over the same period, the US dollar has appreciated by 13%.

This holds true even on a calendar year basis – from January 1 to October 31, 2022, the rupee has depreciated by 9.8% whereas the US dollar has appreciated by 15.8%,” the Governor argued.

He also pointed out that though the rupee has weakened against the US dollar but it has appreciated against many major currencies such as Japanese Yen (12.4%), the Chinese Yuan (5.9%), the Pound Sterling (4.6%) and the Euro (2.5%) in the financial year so far.

Das further argued that fundamental factors that drive the exchange rate have also moved distinctly in favour of India since 2013.

“In 2013, inflation in advanced economies (AEs) was at 1.4%, as compared to 10.1% in India. The inflation differential of India vis-ā-vis AEs is now negative, a rare development with several AEs experiencing double-digit inflation. India’s growth differential with the global economy has improved from 3% in 2013 to 3.8% in 2022,” he said.

Experts say that the Indian rupee traditionally has a downward bias because of the positive inflation differential between India and advanced economies.

The RBI Governor cited other factors like a strong corporate balance sheet, well-capitalised banking system and double digit credit growth, which he feels are factors in favour of rupee.

Equity market snaps four-day winning streak

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

Equity indices on the BSE and NSE snapped their four-session winning streak and ended over 0.3% lower as investors remained cautious ahead of the outcome of US Federal Reserve announcement and guidance on future rate hikes due later in the day.

If the Fed goes for a steep rate hike and maintains its hawkish stance, it could push the economy into a recession, a big negative for global equity market. The Sensex closed the Wednesday session 215 points lower to settle at 60,906 while the broader Nifty50 shed 62 points to close at 18,083.

Auto, PSU Bank, Realty and IT stocks remained under pressure. Telecom giant Bharti Airtel and Apollo Hospitals shed around 3%, while Maruti dropped more than 2% on account of mix sales number for the month of October 2022.

Air India buys remaining stake in AirAsia India

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

IN a much anticipated move, AirAsia Aviation Group (“AAAGL”), is selling its remaining equity held in AirAsia (India) (“AAI”) to Air India, the airline, which now is owned and operated by the Tata Sons.

Facing severe financial crisis due to Covid-19 pandemic, Malaysia’s AirAsia Group Berhad in December 2020 had sold 32.67% of its equity shares in AirAsia (India) to its Indian partner and majority shareholder Tata Sons for $37.7 million. This deal took Tata’s stake in AAI to 83.6% from 51% while AirAsia Group’s stake came down to 16.33% from 49%. Back then it was announced that Tata was left with an option to acquire the remaining 16.33% stake for $18.83 million.

The full acquisition of Air Asia India comes at a time when Air India has set a target to achieve 30% share in the domestic market under its ambitious revival plan ‘Vihaan.AI’. Air India had in April this year purposed to acquire the no-frill AirAsia India, for which it has already received the CCI’s nod. It is believed that AAI will be merged into Air India Express, an Air India entity, to form a big low-cost airline under the Tatas.

The acquisition will solidify Air India’s presence in the domestic aviation market. AirAsia India currently flies to 18 destinations with a market share of 5.9%. Together with Air India, it market shared hovers around 16%.

AirAsia Group said latest agreement comes as AirAsia returns to the skies stronger than ever since the pandemic that allowed the airline to re-examine its strategic objectives to focus on Asean given its strong network and significant presence in the region.

Group CEO of AirAsia Aviation Group Bo Lingam said this is not the end of their relationship, but the beginning of a new one as they explore new and exciting opportunities to collaborate and enhance synergies, going forward. “Covid has allowed us to re-examine our priorities, and we felt that it was best suited for AirAsia to develop an Asean-only business, where we have four great airlines–in Malaysia, Thailand, Indonesia and the Philippines --with a much loved brand and presence. India will remain an important market for AirAsia and will continue to be served by our airlines.” For AirAsia India, which started flying in June 2014, its eight-year journey has been full of controversies-ranging from money laundering charges to bribes for getting international licence.

Rishad Premji bullish on prospects of IT industry

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DESPITE global macro-economic challenges, Wipro chairman Rishad Premji is bullish and excited about the long-term prospects of the IT industry.

He said India has grown from a low-cost offering destination to a true technology and business partner.

Speaking at the Global Investors Meet (GIM), being held in Bengaluru, Premji also said that the Indian IT industry has grown significantly, and it contributes about 8% to India’s GDP compared to less than 1% three decades ago. “My confidence is driven by two things- the rapid pace of digitisation across the world, and the shift in the mindset of stakeholders who engage with us as an industry,” he added.

Pointing out global spending on technology, he said it is set to double in the coming years.

The IT industry has been logging over 20% attrition rate for many quarters now. Premji said companies are chasing the same pool of talent and that the industry has high attrition, and to address this one needs to find new locations and fresh sources of talent. Covid has shown us that the work can be done remotely and at scale.This will make it easier to widen the talent pool, especially women and people with disabilities who will benefit from the flexibility of remote work, Premji added.

Though there are many skilled workers instead of going to where the talent is, they are forced to migrate to the big cities where the jobs are.The Wipro Chairman lauded the efforts of the Karnataka government in setting up technology clusters in tier-2 and 3 cities.

Infosys BPM to pay only 60% of average variable payout in Q2FY23

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

INFOSYS BPM (business process management), the BPM arm of Infosys, has reduced the variable pay of employees by 40% in the second quarter of this fiscal.

For some bands of employees (J4, J5 and J6), the average variable payout for Q2 is at 60%.

In its mail to employees, the company said performance bonus forms an integral part of the compensation philosophy at Infosys BPM and that they reward an employee’s individual performance and contribution through the quarterly performance bonus.

In August, Infosys had deducted 30% of average variable pay for the June quarter on margin pressure. In its email to employees, the company had said, “The average bonus payout for Q1FY23 is 70% at an organisation level and your final individual payment will be governed by your unit/department guidelines.” The Nascent Information Technology Employees Senate (NITES), which has been raising the concerns of unethical pay cuts of employees, has said that the company at their will is reducing the variable pay component of employees without giving any reasonable cause.

“On one side the employees are struggling with inflation and on the other side Infosys is increasing deductions in variable pay,” Harpeet Singh Saluja, president, NITES said.

Meanwhile, Infosys announced that it will seek shareholders’ nod for its Rs 9,300 crore share buyback between November 3 and December 2 through postal ballot.

In a regulatory filing, it said, “The company has engaged the services of National Securities Depository Limited for the purpose of providing e-voting facility to all its members. The remote e-voting shall commence from Thursday and shall end on Friday.” The company announced Rs 9,300 crore share buyback plan during the second quarter earnings conference, and it has set the maximum price at Rs 1,850, which is a premium of 30%. “Subject to the market price of the Equity Shares being equal to the Maximum Buyback Price, the indicative maximum number of Equity Shares bought back would be 50,270,270 Equity Shares, comprising approximately 1.19% of the paid-up capital of the Company as of September 30, 2022,” Infosys had said.

Govt constitutes dedicated cell for ‘mission recruitment’ in CPSEs

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

AMID growing concern over unemployment in the country and shrinking government jobs, the Department of Public Enterprises (DPE) has set up a dedicated cell to facilitate implementation of “Mission Recruitment” in CPSEs.

The dedicated cell has directed the CPSEs concerned to nominate their nodal officers and upload relevant details on designated portal of Department of Personnel & Training, a document from the Department of Public Enterprises showed.

The dedicated cell had a couple of meetings with the nominated nodal officers recently.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi recently launched a recruitment drive “Rozgar Mela” for 10 lakh personnel. These recruitments will be done by central ministries and departments themselves and via recruitment agencies like UPSC, SSC and Railway Recruitment Board.

As per reports, the government has sought information pertaining to vacancies from all public sector undertakings and asked them to prepare a road map to fill them at the entry-level as well as at the senior level. It is to be noted that in 2020-21, the number of personnel employed has come down to 13.72 lakh as against 14.72 lakh in 2016-17. As per the official data, total number of CPSEs operating in the country at the end of FY 21 stood at 255. Out of these 2,556 CPSEs, 177 were making profits and generated a profit of ₹1.89 lakh crore in FY21. According to people in the know, finance ministry also organised a meeting with the public sector banks and other financial institutions to examine employment situation and their monthly recruitment plan. Earlier this year, the government in parliament had informed there were nearly 8.72 lakh posts vacant in several central government departments as of March 1, 2020.

Meanwhile, the unemployment rate in October touched 7.7%, up from 6.43% in September. The rural unemployment crossed 8% in October.

Hyd, B’luru, NCR housing market top pick for NRIs

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

HYDERABAD, NCR (national capital region), and Bengaluru are top picks for NRIs (non-residential Indians) when it comes to investment in housing, according to CII-Anarock Consumer Sentiment Survey released on Wednesday.

The survey notes depreciating rupee value and the continuing buoyancy in the Indian residential real estate market are significant draws for NRIs to invest in their country of origin. In last year’s corresponding period survey, Bengaluru, Pune and Chennai were the top picks for most NRIs. Interestingly, Mumbai comes a distant fourth this year on NRIs’ wish list. The survey had insights from 5,500 respondents, 7% were NRIs currently stationed in the US, Canada, Gulf, Europe, and various Asian countries. 60% of NRI respondents said that they will buy homes in one of the top three cities, with 22% focused on Hyderabad, 20% eyeing NCR, and 18% preferring Bengaluru. The Survey claims that more NRIs prefer investing in Indian real estate over stocks, mutual funds, gold, and fixed deposits. In the Surve’s current edition, 71% NRI respondents saw Indian housing as the best investment bet. This is markedly higher than the 55% in the pre-Covid edition.

Prashant Thakur, Sr. Director & Head - Research, ANAROCK Group, said, “While domestic homeownership sentiment remains strong despite hardening home loan interest rates and property prices, the depreciating rupee value against the US dollar gives NRIs a distinct advantage.”

IOA draft constitution ready, Supreme Court hearing today

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

THE Indian Olympic Association (IOA) draft constitution is expected to be submitted in the Supreme Court on Thursday. As reported by this newspaper, the changes in the draft constitution could herald a new era in sports administration in the country. It is understood that the Centre too has requested the court for a hearing on Thursday.

The SC-appointed one-man committee of retired judge, L Nageswara Rai, has apparently completed the drafting of the constitution and has sent it to persons concerned for perusal.

According to senior advocate and petitioner Rahul Mehra, the Union Government had sought a hearing on November 3, instead of the earlier date of November 11. He also said that it was without keeping him informed and wondered why.

The constitution is expected to incorporate provisions of the 2011 National Sports Development Code of India, the Olympic Charter, various High Court orders and law of the land.

The IOA secretary general, Rajeev Mehta, had called a Special General Meeting with a primary agenda to adopt the draft constitution. The International Olympic Committee (IOC) has said that the constitution has to be vetted through a democratic process.

There is also a possibility the date for elections may be pushed by a few days. According to the IOC, the election process should get over by December 5 when its Executive Board meets. However, the IOA has called for a SGM on November 10 and going by its constitution to hold General Body Meeting, it needs "30 clear days". In that case, the date of election at best can be December 10. It needs to be seen if the IOC agrees with this arrangement.

The SC had suggested the draft constitution be submitted by November 7 and election be completed by December 3.

All IOA members are eagerly waiting for the draft constitution for their next move. The house is divided between two factions — one led by Mehta and the other now led by IOA vice president, Adille Sumariwalla after former IOA chief Narinder Batra stepped down.

Since the constitution has not been finalised, the members are yet to make their next move. The decision on who can be the next president too is pending. Though members believe, like in the case of All India Football Federation and later Indian Cricket Board (BCCI) elections, the government might have a say, there are no clear indications as to who could be the presidential candidate. That the person could be a former player/coach, could be an Olympian, is not ruled out.

The restrictive clause in the IOA constitution may be removed and that will pave way for individuals who were not part of IOA executive committee, to contest elections for the president's post.

Another clause that could affect IOA power centres is the voting pattern. Though some members wanted voting rights for State Olympic Associations, there are indications that as per Delhi High Court order, states may not get to vote.

The Delhi HC has said that only National Sports Federations that represent in Olympics should have voting rights. However, it is likely that NSFs who are part of the Olympics, Asian and Commonwealth Games too might have voting rights. The SC-appointed one-member committee had heard both sides of disputed federations on October 29 and the electoral college will be finalised after evaluating the NSFs' argument.

Another point would be on the re-election of office-bearers that was asked to be 2/3. But IOC had said it should be a simple majority.

It will interesting to see how IOA reacts on Thursday.

INDIA ENTER TIGER RESERVE

Bangladesh threaten via opener Das before India's big-game nous dig them out of a deep hole in curtailed affair

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

Indian players celebrate the dismissal of Bangladesh's batter Litton Das in Adelaide, Australia on Wednesday | AP

THERE was a sigh of relief at the end, followed by smiles. An hour earlier, as a heavy downpour brought the game to a halt at the Adelaide Oval, it looked grim for India. Having posted 184/6, largely thanks to Virat Kohli's unbeaten 64 and KL Rahul's 50, they believed – and rightly so – that they had the game in the pocket. With due respect to Bangladesh, they are a team that is yet to crack the T20 code. Bereft of power-hitters, they were not supposed to threaten 184.

Yet, thanks to some blistering batting from opener Litton Das, Bangladesh had raced to 66/0 in 7 overs. They were 17 runs ahead of DLS when the clouds opened up. The 50-minute break not only allowed India to regroup, but also stalled the momentum Bangladesh had gained. This World Cup hasn't been easy for batters in the powerplay. But, against an Indian seam attack that included Bhuvneshwar Kumar, Mohammed Shami and Arshdeep Singh, Das was lighting up the night sky like few else have in this tournament. Making the short-boundaries on either side to good effect — only 10 of his 60 (27 balls) came in the V — Das provided Bangladesh a head start in the chase.

Even though the rain-break ate into the overs and left Bangladesh requiring to chase 151 of 16 overs, they were still very much ahead of India. With 10 wickets in hand, Bangladesh needed 85 runs of the remaining 9 overs when they took the field again. It was challenging no doubt, but with a wet outfield making the ball hard to grip, it was loaded in favour of the batting side. For Bangladesh, their hopes were pinned on Das.

But by the time, Das was runout second ball after resumption — courtesy a direct-hit from KL Rahul from mid-wicket — the opening India were waiting for arrived. Although Nurul Hasan's 14-ball 25 stretched the game till the final delivery, Bangladesh's inexperience to close-out the big moments once again proved to be their biggest undoing.

"We don't play enough close games, and hence, we don't know how to win those games. Both 185 and the revised target of 151 were acceptable targets. It is unfortunate we didn't win," Bangladesh captain Shakib Al Hasan said in the post-match press conference. "If we talk about rain break, yes it was crucial as we lost the momentum, but when the ball is wet, scoring runs is easier. It was little slippery, and normally, it suits batting rather than bowling. Most teams should get 52 off five overs with eight wickets in hand. We panicked a bit in the middle overs. We lost momentum in two to three overs big time," he added.

Once Das was dismissed, Bangladesh struggled to get the momentum going. Off the next 18 deliveries, they had only one boundary and a six. And with 52 needed off five overs, they lost two wickets each off successive overs. While Nurul did look threatening, partly thanks to some ordinary bowling from India – bowling short that allowed the batters to bring side-boundaries into play – Arshdeep held his nerve in the end.

Before Das brought Bangladesh into the game, it was one-way traffic. After struggling in the first three matches, Rahul repaid the faith showed by the Indian team management. Though Rohit departed early, Rahul combined with Kohli to bring India back on track. Like Das, Rahul made the boundaries on either side to good use, effortlessly hitting four sixes and three boundaries in a 32-ball 50.

On the other side, Kohli went about his usual way. After starting with two quick boundaries, he dropped anchor, before upping the ante again in the end. Once Rahul departed, Suryakumar Yadav (30) was the lone batter to make a substantial contribution, before R Ashwin played a cameo to support Kohli.

Brief scores: India 184/6 in 20 ovs (Kohli 64 n.o, Rahul 50; Mahmud 3/47) bt Bangladesh 145/6 in 16 ovs (Litton 60; Arshdeep 2/38) via D/L method

Netherlands win: Zimbabwe 117 (Raza 40; Meekeren 3/29, Leede 2/14) lost to Netherlands 120/5 in 18 ovs (O'Dowd 52, Cooper 32; Ngarava 2/18).

Novel doping defence: Excessive pork eating

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

IN what could be one-of-a-kind defence, a player has cited excessive consumption of pork after a positive dope test. According to National Anti-Doping Agency (NADA), basketball player, Shashank J Rai, tested positive for anabolic androgenic steroid 19-norandrosterone and has been banned for four years. His sample was collected out-of-competition in Bengaluru on February 5 and tested in a World Anti-Doping Agency (WADA) laboratory in Rome. The adverse analytical finding (AAF) was noted in April and the player was provisionally suspended. A 'B' sample analysis too was done, with the same result. The player also got all his supplements tested but none contained any prohibited substances.

However, what turned out interesting was the defence the player put up. In a written submission, he said that "the regular consumption of pig meat by the athlete is the only plausible explanation for the presence of "19-NA". According to the Anti-Doping Disciplinary Panel (ADDP) order, "the Athlete is a native of Mangalore, a city in Karnataka. Mangalorean cuisine is renowned for their utilization of pig meat or pork. The Athlete is also a regular consumer of pork and had even consumed pork on the day of sample collection and the preceding day too." Bills indicating his consumption of pork were submitted and he said that he and his family are regular consumers of pork. And "the Athlete believes that the only plausible explanation for the presence of 19-NA is the regular consumption of pig meat by the Athlete".

The athlete also submitted that the following scientific studies have recognised the consumption of pork as a possible source of 19-NA: "(a) Excretion of 19-norandrosterone after consumption of boar meat by Frank Hülsmann, German Sport University Cologne, Institute of Biochemistry.

"Here, it was found that significant amounts of 19-NA can be found in the offal (internal organs) and meat of wild boars and that consumption of wild boar meat may result in an atypical or even positive test result. The panel observed that "study clearly says that the said results may be obtained only when "male non-castrated" pigs are consumed, no document was placed on record to verify the same in the present (athlete's) case." The panel also said that "the concentration in Athlete's sample was found to be (≥) 15 ng/mL, subsequent GC/C/IRMS in the athlete's report confirmed the presence of exogenous origin of "19-NA"." Though the athlete tried to establish excessive pork eating led to the AAF, the panel did not accept his explanation.

The panel argued that "No statistics supporting the statement "Mangalorean cuisine is renowned for their utilization of pig meat or pork" were placed on record and hence shall be treated as hearsay".

Satwik-Chirag enter Round 2 in Germany

ENS @Chennai

ON Sunday, Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty ticked another box in their flourishing career, becoming first the Indian doubles pair to pocket a Super 750 title by winning the French Open in Paris. They are not resting on the laurels after that massive hit. They were back in business again on Wednesday. Taking part in the Hylo Open Super 300 meet in Saarbrucken (Germany), the Commonwealth Games gold medallists had to dig deep to beat Chinese Taipei's Lee Yang and Lu Chen.

The Indian pair, who are No 3 seeds in the event, lost the opening game before clinching the contest 9-21, 21-19, 21-16 in just over an hour. The World No 8 pairing next face England's Rory Eastron and Zach Russ. Meanwhile, HS Prannoy and men's doubles pair of MR Arjun-Dhruv Kapila gave walkovers to their respective rivals in their first-round matches.

While Satwik and Chirag have seen their stocks rise in recent times, London Olympics bronze medallist Saina Nehwal has struggled to regain her old form. She lost 15-2,1 8-21 to Thailand's Busanan Ongbamrungphan (No 4 seed) in the women's singles event.

Youngster Malvika Bansod progressed after a hard-fought win over Spain's Clara Aazurmendi. Malvika won 20-22, 21-12, 21-6.

Spurs captain Lloris hails team after win

AFP @Marseille

Tottenham players celebrate their second goal against Marseille | AFP

TOTTENHAM Hotspur captain Hugo Lloris said his team had shown "great personality" to come from behind and beat Marseille 2-1 on Tuesday, a result that saw them progress to the last 16 of the Champions League as group winners.

Spurs needed a point from their trip to France to qualify for the last 16 and a victory to finish top of Group D, but they trailed at half-time to a Chancel Mbemba goal for Marseille at the Velodrome. However, they were transformed in the second half and fought back to equalise through Clement Lenglet before Pierre-Emile Hojbjerg scored a dramatic winner in the 95th minute.

"It was a tough night. It was a great battle. I think it was more of a psychological battle because we could feel in the first half there was a team playing without the fear to lose -- which was Marseille," Lloris told BT Sport.

"Then in the second half we faced a team that had the fear to lose because they were 1-0 up and one goal could cost their chances to go through."

Spurs advance along with Eintracht Frankfurt, who won 2-1 away to Sporting Lisbon. Meanwhile Hojbjerg's last-gasp goal meant Marseille — despite such an impressive first-half performance — finished bottom of the group and so are eliminated from Europe altogether.

SUBSTANCE ABUSE

Rare move: NADA takes action against coach, hands 4-year ban

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

IN what could be a first, the National Anti-Doping Agency (NADA) has acted against a coach for administering a prohibited substance to an athlete. The NADA found athletics coach Mickey Menenzes violating its Anti-Doping Rule 2021 and has been banned for four years from imparting coaching/training. It has also fined the coach ₹50,000. The coach had already been suspended by the Maharashtra Athletics Association after trainee, Kirti Bhoite, alleged he had given her a banned substance that led to a positive dope test during the Khelo India Youth Games in Guwahati in 2020. This newspaper had reported about the infraction in May 2022.

The NADA too initiated proceedings against the coach on May 12, 2022, for administration of the prohibited substance to the sprinter (Kirti) and complicity (under NADA Anti-Doping Rule 2021 Article 2.8 and 2.9 — see box). According to the order, NADA invoked clause ADR 2021 10.3.3 and read with rule 10.12 and banned him for four years and imposed a fine to recover the cost associated with an Anti-Doping Rule Violation (ADRV).

The coach did not appear before the NADA's Anti-Doping Disciplinary Panel (ADDP) on the day of the hearing. "The hearing was attended by Yasir Arafat, a NADA law officer. The coach did not appear before the hearing panel," said the order. Menezes, however, had filed a written submission. In his reply, he had said that "he (coach) has recommended supplements to the parents of the trainees and purchase those supplements for athletes on payment basis. He (coach) has purchased supplements such as proteins, amino acids and energy."

The coach said that the supplier had informed him about new product, which "is beneficial for sprint athletes and is also completely dope free". According to the order, "he was under bonafide belief that the product was dope free". He also said he was "under a shock" when he learnt about Kirti's positive test. What seems more intriguing is that the supplier then changed his statement. "The supplier changed his statement and said that the product gets washed out in 10 days. The supplier changed his statement that the product was completely dope free..." He went on to say that "he was only intending to give her supplements which are dope free and only to enhance her strength through these supplements." He said it was the fault of the supplier and "he had no intention to give a supplement which was not dope free to Kirti or to any other athlete."

The ADDP comprising of Dr Bikas Medhi, Charu Prgya (chairman) and Kalyan Chaubey, however, found that his conduct was in anti-rule violation. The order said the coach is a former athlete and must be aware of anti-doping rule violation. "The ADR cast the duties on the athlete support personal to be knowledgable of any comply (sic) with Anti-Doping Rule."

Kirti, who was handed a four-year suspension by the ADDP, got a reduced two-year sanction after appeal on the ground that "she has not consumed any prohibited substance intentionally, rather it was the fault of her coach".

Lockdown around iPhone factory

Only medical vehicles and those delivering essential items are allowed on the streets

COVID

BEIJING: Chinese authorities imposed lockdowns on 6,00,000 people in the area surrounding the world's largest iPhone factory on Wednesday,.

All people except Covid-prevention volunteers and essential workers "must not leave their residences except to receive Covid tests and emergency medical treatment", officials from central China's Zhengzhou Airport Economy Zone said.

Employees complained online of poor conditions, a lack of supplies and having to flee the factory on foot to avoid Covid transport curbs. Foxconn says there are currently more than 200,000 workers at its Zhengzhou plant.

China is the last major economy committed to a zero-Covid strategy, persisting with snap lockdowns, mass testing and lengthy quarantines in a bid to stamp out the emerging outbreaks.

But new variants have tested local officials' ability to snuff out flare-ups faster than they can spread, causing much of the country to live under an ever-changing mosaic of Covid curbs.

The district in Zhengzhou city said on Wednesday that all businesses would be required to work from home, with only 'key enterprises' allowed to continue operating. It did not specify which businesses fell under that category. Only medical vehicles and those delivering essentials are allowed on the streets.

The district's more than 600,000 residents will have to take nucleic acid tests every day, the local government said, warning that it would "resolutely crack down on all kinds of violations".

The Communist Party-run Dahe Daily said local authorities would 'thoroughly disinfect' Foxconn's facilities, including employee dormitories, over the next three days. Workers quarantining at the factory would need to show seven days of negative tests before leaving for their hometowns.

The paper also said the government had promised to provide timely meals and to set up a counselling hotline for workers.

SEARCH FOR SOLUTIONS DRIVES RACE TO SAVE UTAH SALT FLATS

In the Utah desert, a treeless expanse of pristine white salt crystals has long lured daredevil speed racers, filmmakers and social media-obsessed tourists. It's so flat that on certain days, visitors swear they can see the curvature of the earth

ABOUT THE BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS

The glistening white terrain of the Bonneville Salt Flats, a remnant of a prehistoric lakebed that is one of the American West's many otherworldly landscapes, serves as a racetrack for land speed world records and backdrop for movies like 'Independence Day' and 'The World's Fastest Indian'

But it's growing thinner and thinner as those who cherish it clamour for changes to save it

WATER BENEATH THE FLATS DEPLETING

Research has time and again shown that the briny water in the aquifer below the flats is depleting faster than nature can replenish it

As nearby groundwater replaces the mineral-rich brine, evaporation yields less salt than historic cycles of flooding and evaporation left on the landscape

Jeremiah Bernau, a Utah State biologist, holds salt crystals at the Bonneville Salt Flats near Wendover, Utah

RACERS STRUGGLING ON UNSTABLE LAYER OF SALT

The crust keeps tires cool at high speeds and provides an ideal surface for racing —unless seasonal flooding fails to recede or leaves behind an unstable layer of salt

Racers struggle to find a track long enough to reach record speeds with only 8 miles of track compared 20 kilometres several decades ago

THINNED BY ONE-THIRD IN LAST 60 YRS

Bonneville Salt Flats has thinned by roughly one-third in the last 60 years

The overall footprint has shrunk to about half of its peak size in 1994

A 2016 study found that the areas most susceptible to thinning were places where races are organised

SOLVING THE WATER PROBLEM

Scientists largely agree that years of aquifer overdrawing by nearby potash mining have driven the problem, yet insist that there's no hard evidence that simply paying the mining company to return water to the area will solve it amid detrimental human activity like extracting minerals or driving racecars

A biologist collects water samples in the Bonneville Salt Flats

What is potash mining ?

Potash is potassium-based salt primarily used throughout the world as a fertilizer for crops such as corn, soy, rice and wheat. It's extracted in more than a dozen countries throughout the world, mainly from prehistoric lakebeds like Bonneville's

It's mined from other iconic salt flats, including in Chile, where the thickness is not shrinking in a similar manner

STUDYING EFFECTS ON SALT FLATS

Under a $1 million research project spearheaded by the Utah Geographical Study, scientists are gathering data to understand the effects climate change, racing, repaving the salt and operating the mine on leased federal land have on preserving the Salt Flats

The salt is thinning as climate change drags the West into its third decade of drought, yet it's unclear how that affects the seasonal flood patterns the landscape relies on to maintain its size and footprint

LULA VICTORY

Germany to resume Brazil felling aid

ENVIRONMENT

BERLIN: Germany said on Wednesday it was ready to resume sending financial aid to Brazil to combat deforestation following Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva's election triumph.

"We are in principle prepared to release the frozen funds," said a development ministry spokesman in Berlin. "We will now talk to the transition team in Brazil about the details."

He was referring to aid paid by Germany into the Amazon Fund for Forest Conservation and Climate Protection, considered one of the main tools to reduce deforestation in the planet's biggest tropical forest.

The spokesman said it was not yet clear when payments would resume but added that "in the German government, there is a great will to reach out quickly".

Germany, along with the fund's biggest donor Norway, had halted payments after deforestation surged under Jair Bolsonaro.

Norway had already announced on Monday that it would resume sending Amazon protection subsidies to Brazil following Lula's victory.

Lula—who served as president between 2003 and 2011 said after his election victory on Sunday that Brazil was "ready to reclaim its place in the fight against the climate crisis, especially the Amazon."

He vowed to "fight for zero deforestation."

Reducing deforestation is one of the solutions put forward by the UN International Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) to limit global warming to 1.5°C, in line with the targets of the Paris Accord.

Germany to cap energy and power prices from 2023

ENERGY

BERLIN: Germany on Wednesday put the finishing touches on an energy price cap, the cornerstone of a massive $198-billion package to shield households and businesses from rising costs.

"Immediate help is on its way!" Chancellor Olaf Scholz said on Twitter, who has ploughed ahead with plans despite criticisms from European partners.

The major energy market intervention is deemed necessary to support consumers at a time when Europe's largest economy is drifting towards recession and inflation has shot past 10%. The plan will see the price for a percentage of household and businesses' typical consumption capped at lower-than-market prices.

For gas, 25,000 larger businesses, as well as almost 2,000 hospitals and schools will benefit from the cap as soon as January 1 next year, under the plans.

Going into recession

Despite the Germany economy eking out 0.3% growth between July and September, most analysts still expect the country to slip into recession

Households and smaller businesses meanwhile could have to wait until March 1 at the latest for the price brake to come into force.

Policymakers will 'seek' to apply the relief retroactively from February 2023.

A similar price cap will also apply to electricity from the start of the new year in January, with the measures set to last through to the end of April 2024. While the cap for smaller consumers will only come into force later, the government will pick up the bill for household heating in December.

For households the price of a kilowatt-hour of gas will be capped at 12 cents for up to 80% of their typical usage. All in all, the support measures could save a single-person household with a typical gas consumption of 5,000 kWh around 264 euros over a year.

Some regional leaders pressed the federal government to apply the gas cap for households sooner. "People need reliable protection from the higher costs, especially in the cold months of January and February, when they use heating intensively," Hendrik Wuest, the regional leader of North Rhine-Westphalia said.

Kenya's largest female jumbo dies

WILDLIFE

A Kenyan elephant believed to have been Africa's largest female tusker has died of old age, wildlife officials said. Dida was famed for her long tusks and aged between 60 and 65 years, the upper reaches of life expectancy for an elephant in the wild. "She died from natural causes due to old age," Kenya Wildlife Service (KWS) said on Twitter, attaching images of the elephant. The matriarch lived in the expansive Tsavo East National Park in the southeast of the wildlife-rich country. "Dida was a truly iconic matriarch of Tsavo and a great repository of many decades worth of knowledge," KWS said, adding that she was the subject of several documentaries.

Plastic makers to pay for cleanup

NATURE

The German government said on Wednesday that it plans to make the plastic manufacturers contribute to the cost of cleaning up litter in streets and parks and other public places. The Cabinet agreed on a bill that makers of products containing single-use plastic will need to pay into a central fund managed by the government, starting in 2025. The fund is estimated to collect about $446 million in the first year, based on the companies' past production of single-use plastic. Affected items include cigarette filters, drink containers and packaging for takeout food. Environment Minister Steffi Lemke said the cost of cleanups in Europe's biggest economy is currently borne by all.

Mideast at high risk of water scarcity: Report

STUDY

GENEVA: The Middle East is at high risk of water and food scarcity as well as severe heat waves as a result of climate change, said a Greenpeace study released on Wednesday.

The report titled 'Living on The Edge' focused on Algeria, Egypt, Lebanon, Morocco, Tunisia and the UAE.

It found the Middle East is warming nearly twice as fast as the global average, making its food and water supplies extremely vulnerable to climate change. "In all six countries discussed in this report, there will be a very high risk of water scarcity in all regions, which will negatively affect agriculture and human health," the report said.

By the end of the century, 80% of the densely populated cities in the Middle East and North Africa were likely to suffer from heat waves for at least 50% of the warm season, the report said.

In some of the locations, including in the Gulf region, peak temperatures during extreme future heatwaves could exceed 56°C.

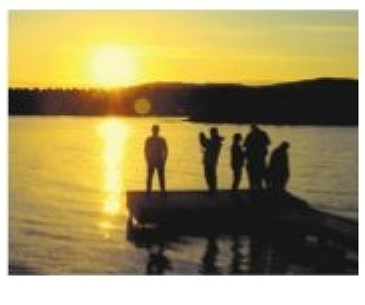
Worrying temperature rise in Europe

CLIMATE



Temperatures in Europe have increased at more than twice the global average over the past three decades, showing the fastest rise of any continent on earth, the UN said on Wednesday. The European region has on average seen temperatures rise 0.5°C each decade since 1991, the UN's World Meteorological Organization and the European Union's Copernicus Climate Change Service found in a joint report. As a result, Alpine glaciers lost 30 metres in ice thickness between 1997 and 2021, while the Greenland ice sheet is swiftly melting and contributing to accelerating sea level rise. Last year, Greenland experienced melting and the first-ever recorded rainfall at its highest point. At the same time, the report highlighted emissions decreased by nearly a third between 1990 and 2020. It also hailed Europe's world-leading deployment of early warning systems, providing protection for about 75% of the population.

Escape of pride sparks lion lockdown at Australian zoo

WILDLIFE

SYDNEY: Five African lions broke out of their enclosure at Sydney's Taronga Zoo on Wednesday, triggering an emergency lockdown as police and specialist handlers scrambled to round up the pride.

Alarms blared throughout the zoo, a tourist drawcard that was closed to the public at the time, before the lions were tracked down and returned to their exhibit.

The zoo's executive director Simon Duffy said one lion cub had to be tranquilised.

"This is a significant incident and a full review is now under way to confirm exactly how the lions were able to exit their main exhibit," he said. "We don't have the exact details of how and why that occurred."

Taronga Zoo—set in a leafy, affluent neighbourhood with views of Sydney's famous opera house and harbour bridge—said it would be opening as normal later in the day.

Zookeepers were seen probing the fences of the lion enclosure for signs of damage.

The zoo has two adult lions, mum Maya and dad Ato, as well as their five cubs named Khari, Luzuko, Malika, Zuri and Ayanna.

A fully-grown male African lion can weigh as much as 250 kilograms, while females get as heavy as 180 kilograms.

A two-year-old Bengal tiger escaped its enclosure at Taronga Zoo in 1946, roaming the grounds in what a newspaper described as a 'frenzy of fear' before it was shot and killed by a zoo keeper.

Some 20 police were rushed to a suburb in Sydney's west in 1982 after a lion was spotted near a soft drink factory—the culprit later identified as a pudgy cat called Ginger.

FERVENT FOR FIFA

Ahead of the upcoming FIFA World Cup, sports bars, football players and coaches in the city speak to CE about their plans during the tournament

TUNIR BISWAS

SINCE 2018, football fans across the globe have been waiting for 2022 for one reason and one reason only: FIFA World Cup. Happening in Qatar, this is the first time the second largest sporting event in the world (after the Summer Olympics) is being held in the middle east. Just like the football loving cities in the rest of the world, Bengaluru is gearing for this highly coveted championship as well, which is starting from November 20.

Miten Shah, co-founder of The Studs Sports Bar + Grill, feels the FIFA World Cup has always been a big-ticket event for Studs. "This tournament comes every four years and it does bring a lot of excitement for everybody. All the crazy football fans of the English Premiere League and the UEFA Champions League turn up together. All fans of the EPL and other league teams, whose players are playing in the world cup, gather together for a screening party. The bar is especially packed when during matches of big teams Brazil, Germany or England," says Shah.

Shah mentions that Studs makes sure that they provide an unparalleled experience for the fans during the world cup. "We have arranged a special cocktail menu specifically designed around the FIFA World Cup, which are named around the competing teams, like Spicy Spain for example. We are also curating a special food menu as well having items like chicken sliders, fish and chips and french fries," shares Shah adding that for each match, the DJ at the sports bar will play the competing countries' music.

Rajesh Menon, VP & head of the Royal Challengers Bangalore (RCB), who also run the RCB Bar & Cafe, expects to see a big turnout once the World Cup commences. "At RCB Bar & Cafe, we have a program called 'Game Nights' as a part of our regular programming calendar. Our Game Nights live screen major games from different kinds of sports year-round. We will be screening all the FIFA World Cup matches this year as well. Our Game Nights are incredibly popular given the growing sports culture in the city, and we often get booked out in advance. Since international football has always had a large fan following, the world cup is something a lot of people are looking forward to and we expect to see large turnouts," says Menon.

The hype is not just limited to sports bars and pubs, football coaches and players are also looking to see some of the best in the sport on the biggest footballing stage. Tony Louis Robert, who works as a football coach for the under-9 and under-11 teams at Bangalore United FC, says the young players are stoked to see their favourite footballers play the upcoming world cup. "The younger kids are very excited to watch superstars like Lionel Messi and Cristiano Ronaldo. A lot of these children are actually rooting for Brazil because of Neymar. He's the top dribbler in the world right now and all the youngsters love to dribble. We are all gonna watch the big matches like the semi-finals and final together," says Robert for whom the 2006 World Cup finale between France and Italy, which is also known for Zinedine Zidane's infamous headbutt, was the most memorable match.

Football player and Karnataka state referee Rajesh Paterson is also rooting for Brazil but feels one can't be sure which team might win. "I always support Brazil during each World Cup. But this is the World Cup we're talking about so I can't put a pin on a particular team winning. Anything can happen. I will be watching all the matches of Argentina and Portugal as well because Messi has already announced this will be his last World Cup and it can be the same for Ronaldo as well," says Paterson.

MYSTERIES AND THRILLERS STRAIGHT FROM JAPAN

SREEDEVI JAYACHANDRAN

LADYBUG', the veteran assassin portrayed by Brad Pitt in his latest movie The Bullet Train, captivated audiences across the globe with his quirkiness and witty sense of humour. But, only a very few are aware that this action comedy thriller is based on the Japanese novel Maria beetle (titled Bullet Train in its UK and US editions) by Kotaro Isaka.

The novel follows several hitmen aboard a Tohoku Shinkansen Hayate train, each on a different mission, interconnected in some way. This propulsive, satirical thriller was a massive bestseller in Japan.

Over the past few years, Japanese detective fiction gained more popularity among global readers. From locked-room mysteries and whodunnits to decades-long murder tales and psychological thrillers, Japanese crime literature presents a vast range of subgenres that suit all tastes.

For a mystery lover, nothing gives more happiness than being engrossed in a book that challenges the little grey cells.

The bookworm in me was introduced to Japanese detective fiction by a dear friend. And to be honest, being a fan of sleuths like Sherlock Holmes and Hercule Poirot, I was not sure whether it would pique my interest. But the Devotion of Suspect X by Keigo Higashino proved me wrong. The plot of how a math geek devises the perfect cover-up to clear his loved one of murder is so ingenious that it will put you on the edge of your seat.

Higashino won numerous awards for the novel, including the 134th Naoki Prize. The Malayalam movie Drishyam was inspired by it.

The Japanese mystery novels (honkaku) of the 20th century and beyond offer some of the finest detective stories ever penned. Authors like Seishi Yokomizo, Soji Shimada, and Masako Togawa created their golden age of honkaku.

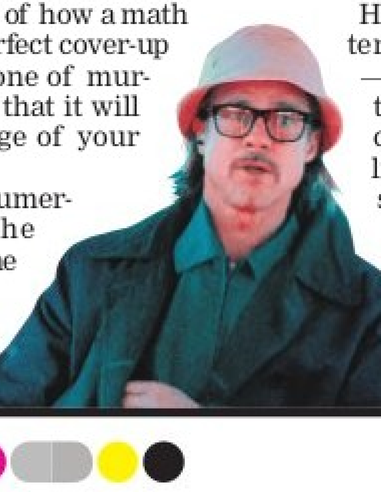
Japanese literature vs Western literature

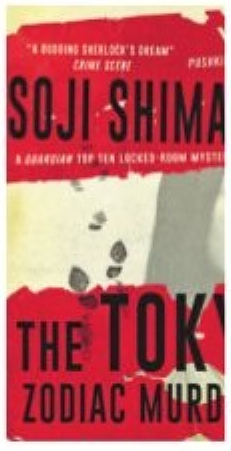
While Western mystery fiction focuses more on cause and effect, Japanese novels focus more on the emotional aspect. In Japanese detective fiction, the modus operandi and motive behind the crime gather more prominence than the simple quest to find the killer.

In Japan, there is a model of storytelling known as 'kishotenketsu' that is structured around four parts. In part one, the characters are introduced, and in part two, the readers are given a broader view of the story. In part three, an unexpected turn of events (twist) occurs and often recontextualizes the previous events of the story. And part four is the conclusion.

The key difference is that western storytelling depends on 'conflict', while Kishotenketsu doesn't. In some of the best Japanese mysteries, the main character is often introduced only in the middle of the story and instead of trying to do everything alone, the detective often relies on teamwork and the kindness of others.

Here are some of the interesting Japanese novels — all available in English translation — which you can add to your reading list. These mysteries will surely take you on a roller coaster ride of emotions filled with quirky characters, puzzles and mind-blowing endings.





The Tokyo Zodiac Murders

This is the debut mystery novel of Soji Shimada, the musician and writer who is best known as an author of over 100 mystery novels. The astrologer and self-styled detective Kiyoshi Mitarai must solve a mystery that has baffled Japan for 40 years in one week. The author challenges us to solve the gruesome murders and claims that every clue necessary will be included in the text, and that the characters will have no unfair advantage over the reader. The novel, which is divided into several sections, will surely set your heart racing.

'Pregnancy is possible even after Repeated Miscarriages'

DR. MEGHANA VINAY NYAPATHI

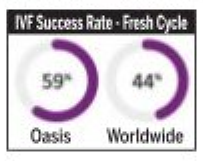
Parenthood is a very special journey. For some, it can happen easily within a short span of planning for pregnancy. But for some, the road towards parenthood can be rough and hard. Miscarriage is one such devastating experience for couples. It is very painful physically, emotionally, and psychologically. Repeated miscarriages can shatter one's trust and faith. But there is hope!

Advanced technologies are available that can help couples become parents even after repeated miscarriages.

Advanced fertility investigations and treatments for couples with repeated miscarriages:

Thrombophilia Profile

This test is done to detect any autoimmune condition that can be the cause of miscarriage. Most common conditions include the presence of antiphospholipid antibodies (APLA), antinuclear antibodies (ANA), anticardiolipin antibodies (ACA), anti-thyroid antibodies (Anti - TPO and anti - TG), etc. The treatment in such conditions includes the usage of steroids, low molecular weight Heparin, IV immunoglobulins, etc.

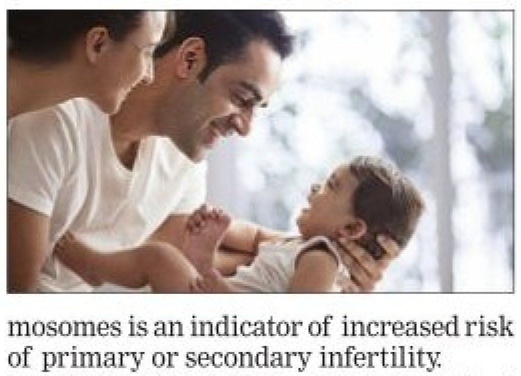


Hysterolaparoscopy

Uterine abnormalities like septate uterus, bicornuate uterus, etc. can be the cause of first and second trimester miscarriages and also preterm birth. Some of these abnormalities might be difficult to diagnose during pregnancy. Hysteroscopic septal resection, metroplasty, surgery for endometriosis, etc. are some of the procedures done to improve the chances of a successful pregnancy.

Karyotyping

This can help in finding out if there is any genetic disorder in the male or female partner that is the cause of miscarriage. Any change in the number or structure of chromosomes is an indicator of increased risk of primary or secondary infertility.



Some of the genetic conditions that lead to miscarriage are Y Chromosome Micro-deletion, Klinefelter Syndrome, Kallmann Syndrome, etc. Now, how to prevent miscarriage? PGT is the solution.

PGT (Pre-implantation Genetic Testing)

When the couples have a genetic disorder, PGT can help in reducing the risk of miscarriage and also prevent the transmission of genetic disorders to their offspring. PGT tests the embryos for genetic abnormalities and only healthy embryos can be selected and implanted in the woman's uterus. This can increase the possibility of a successful pregnancy along with reducing the risk of transmitting the genetic condition to their progeny. PGT types include PGT – A (Aneuploidy), PGT-M (Monogenic), and PGT-SR (Structural Rearrangements).

PGT helps in detecting many genetic disorders thereby enabling couples to have a healthy pregnancy as well as a healthy baby. The couples need to go for a fertility checkup if they have faced repeated miscarriages. Never give up hope. Advanced fertility treatments can help you achieve your life's greatest joy.

Q&A

1 In one of the many social media trends, there is a pelvic thrust exercise that seems to the quite popular for reducing belly fat. How effective is it?

This exercise is a recipe for disaster. The effects are on your knees and lower back and not your belly fat reduction. The movements place immense stress on your knees and lower back and lead to injuries. Soon you will stop exercising due to unbearable pain. Remember there is NO spot reduction. Weight loss is overall when you eat healthily and in moderation, create a calorie deficit and expend calories via exercise and movements. There are plenty of safe ab exercises, please opt for those to tone your midsection.

2 I love warm water baths. Will that help melt my body fat?

Ahem Ahem!! If it was that easy then we wouldn't have liposuction and other fat-reducing surgeries!

Steam, sauna or hot water bath will not melt even a gram of fat. Having a cold water bath helps boost metabolism as the body uses calories to raise the temperature of the body. The only way to lose weight and body fat is via cardio, total body strength training, a balanced diet and calorie deficit. Why don't you give this a try for a month at least?

3 Do we put on weight even if the food is cooked with cold pressed oil?

The only way we gain is weight due to consumption of excess calories, lack of activity and a sedentary lifestyle. Calorie deficit and calorie management help in weight loss. So the food that you cook in whatever oil should be consumed in moderation and hey, don't forget to exercise regularly and move as much as you can all through the day.

SIGNS OF HEART ATTACK

Is chest pain the only sign of heart attack? Here are some of facts busting the myth about one of the most common fatal diseases

CARDIOVASCULAR disease has reached epidemic proportions in India and is one of the leading causes of death in the population. The alarming aspect of this, is that the heart disease is now affecting younger individuals and the main cause is the stressful sedentary life style with increase in incidence of hypertension, diabetes and smoking in the younger population. There has been great advances in the treatment options available for heart attack patients. Despite this, the morbidity and mortality associated with heart attacks remain high. One of the main reasons attributable to this is the lack of awareness of symptoms associated with heart attack. Majority of the times heart attack happens out of the blue and it becomes very difficult to know what is the right action that needs to be taken.

Chest pain is the most common symptom associated with heart attack. However, heart attack can present in various different ways. The other symptoms associated with heart attack are shortness of breath, sweating, feeling extremely weak and tired, giddiness and collapse. Diabetic patients especially may present with these atypical symptoms rather than chest pain. Also female patients can more commonly present with atypical symptoms. The chest pain can be present in the center of the chest, right side or left side, in the jaw, back or on the left arm. Also very commonly we see patients present with pain in the upper part of the abdomen in the center (epigastric region). The pain can be burning in nature and this causes confusion with gastritis.

The heart pain or gastritis pain can be very similar and leads to many patients mistaking heart attack with gastritis. It is very important to note that diagnosing heart attack just by the nature of pain is very difficult and hence further tests are needed like ECG, echocardiogram and blood troponin levels. Heart attack is an emergency and early treatments saves lives. The golden hour concept says that all heart attacks have to be treated within 12 hours for best outcomes. Angioplasty treatment provided within six hours of the onset of symptoms results in almost complete recovery. The benefits of the treatment starts coming down beyond 12 hours and hence the need to make urgent diagnosis. Any heart attack patient has 50% risk of dying whilst at home/work which reduces to 10% if they reach hospital alive.

Unfortunately, even now we come across significant number of patients who arrive late and a lot of damage has already been done by the time they reach hospital. In these situations the treatments become more risky and less beneficial. It is always better to get oneself checked out in the hospital rather than making self diagnosis. It is better to end up in hospital with gastritis rather than end up in the house with heart attack.

In summary, heart attack is very common and symptoms can be varied. Effective treatments are available and they improve overall survival significantly when given in a timely manner. It is therefore important to be aware of all the symptoms associated with heart attack and seek medical help urgently in these situations.

'I MET OVER 150 DIRECTORS ACROSS INDIA FOR MY LAUNCH'

Zaid Khan, in this candid interview with CE, explains why he stays distant from politics and is fascinated by cinema and his journey to his debut Banaras

A SHARADHAA

ZAID Khan, who comes from a family of politicians, chose to take a different path and forayed into the world of cinema. Is cinema his entry point to politics? He instantly declines. "My family including my father (Zameer Ahmed), who is an MLA does not want me to enter politics. My father is particular that politics as a career should end with him. Since childhood, I never got inclined toward politics, nor am I hungry for power. Growing up, I was always happy being associated with art. I would often participate in dance and plays in school, and I enjoyed the claps, applause, and appreciation they got me. So I decided that cinema is my future," says Zaid Khan, who is all set to test the waters with his debut Banaras, which will be out this Friday.

"The question of my political entry has often popped up. But let me reiterate, I have no such interest. I don't have to get into films, and then make a transition to politics. I am capable of standing in the next election and winning it. However, I never had that aspiration. I always want to be in the cinema. If things go south, I have my family business to look after," he adds.

Despite having the resources and influence, he took seven years to choose the right project and director for his debut. "Like every actor, I was looking for the right kind of director, who can give me a good launch. But fortunately or unfortunately, every time I got a good director I didn't get a good story or vice versa. If both were okay, there will be call sheet issues."

The debutant had to face a few roadblocks in the form of unreliable creators before Banaras happened. "I had a handful of filmmakers, who knew about my political background and wanted to use it for their gains. I wondered, if this is my case, I can just imagine the plight of young talents, who have no financial support or background," says Zaid Khan, adding, "I've met more than 150 directors across India for my launch, but it didn't work with anyone until director Jayathirtha came by. He was honest and dedicated. He is a director who explains the scenes to his actors like a baby. His experience comes from a theatre background, and he knows to handle people. Jayathirtha has given me the best launch with Banaras," he says.

Zaid, who has got trained in acting classes for a year at Anupam Kher Institute and later got trained in Bengaluru for about 8 months. He later travelled with director Jayathirtha and has dedicated over two years to Banaras. "I have given my sweat and blood to the film, and have ticked all the checklist presented by the director," says the actor, who is happy to for the encouragement from people, during the promotional rounds. "They compliment my looks, and I think it's God's gift. They like the rushes of the film. The latest song, Belakina Kavithe has also fetched me more female fan following, and I'm thankful for all the love."

Zaid has gone for an out-of-the-box story for his debut as Banaras deals with time travel despite being a romance at the core. "Banaras is a risky project. It will either give me a good head start or end my career. Secondly, I have to prove to my family, and also to the entire Karnataka, that I'm here to stay. Above all for any debutant, that first film determines his sustainability. At present, I'm confident about Banaras, and that it will take me places, and there is a good vibe about the film," Zaid states with confidence.

Zaid calls Banaras a mysterious love story. "It is a very fresh and experimental film, especially the second half is sure to give the audience goosebumps. That's one of the reasons we made it a Pan-Indian film." He adds that working in the film was a unique kind of experience. "I have been visiting temples since my childhood. I studied in a Hindu school, participated in Ganesha and Holi festivals, and attended poojas at schools and friends' places. However, everything in Varanasi was new to me, especially the rituals. Initially, it was difficult for every one of us. But later, we got used to it. Every evening after the shooting, we would attend aarti puja. Seeing dead bodies all over shook our minds and soul. They always say that Banaras or Varanasi is a place for old people. But I feel every youth should visit Banaras, as it will help us to understand life better."

Zaid shares that his confidence lies in the content and wants his film to do the talking. "Cinema doesn't question the religion or language of an artiste, it only entertains." He feels that the success of the film will benefit his next projects. "The success of Banaras will help me overgrow the image of my political background and prove me as an actor."

Banaras features him opposite Sonal Monteiro. It also consists of actors like Sujay Shastry, and Achyuth Kumar, among others playing important roles. The film's music is composed by Ajaneesh Loknath and has Advaitha Gurumurthy as the cinematographer.

Zaid already has two to three projects in the lineup and plans to kickstart the project as early as possible. However, the actor wants to share details of the projects, post the release of Banaras.

'My TV serial experience benefits my film career'

says Megha Shetty, who talks about her first silver screen outing Dil Pasand, where she shares screen space with Krishna

CE FEATURES

MEGHA Shetty needs no introduction. An actor, who began her career on the small screen with the tv serial Jothe Jotheyalli got instant popularity. Megha says it was unexpected and likes to credit the entire team for the recognition. The young talent, who continues to work in the serial, has also leapt to the silver screen. Megha, who has completed shooting for four films, is all excited and geared up for the release of her first silver screen outing, Dil Pasand, a romantic drama directed by Shiva Tejas, and backed by Sumanth Kranthi, where she is paired opposite Krishna of Love Mocktail fame. The film also features Nishvika Naidu as the other lead.

She shares that her learnings from the small screen have benefitted her film career. "My father and my grandmother are theatre artists, and I guess I have inherited it. However, my serials have been the best learning platform, especially for actors, who come with no acting background. If the audience finds my performance in cinema good it is because of my experience in the small screen."

She goes on to share the differences she spotted while shooting for the silver screen. "It was a big team with a different atmosphere. Everyone was a stranger to me, and initially, I had difficulties approaching them and kept wondering how I should break the ice, and initiate conversations with them. Thankfully, every actor I have worked with has made me feel comfortable and that made me perform better."

The serial actor always wanted to be part of content-driven entertainers and play important characters. Her role in Dilpasand, has two different variations. "Minchu has an extremely traditional side to her, but the situations force her to become modern. Without revealing much, I just want to say that the film is a fun-filled family entertainer and will cater to all kinds of audiences. It will be as sweet as Dilpasand.

Unlike actors, who have left serial for films, Megha manages to juggle her shooting for Jothe Jotheyalli, and manage dates for film projects. "I have an emotional connection with the small screen and particularly to my serial Jothe Jotheyalli. Irrespective of the medium, I consider everything as a responsibility and do it with love. I'm currently enjoying the workaholic life," he says.

Megha also has Tribble Riding with Ganesh, directed by Mahesh Gowda, and Kaiva with Dhanveerrah helmed by Jayathirtha, for which she has a schedule left. Operation London Cafe is another film, for which she has completed shooting. "The result of 2 years of my work in these four films will now be out one by one for the audience to watch, and I'm anxiously waiting to know their reactions," she says.

TAKING THE RIGHT STEPS

SHILAJIT MITRA

ADITYA Seal had acquitted himself memorably in a dance-off with Tiger Shroff in Student of the Year 2. The 2018 film, with Aditya playing campus jock Manav Singh Randhawa, is considered his breakout, though he's been acting in movies since a child. A former teen star who can dance, Aditya has now been tapped to headline Rocket Gang—an upcoming 'dance horror-comedy' directed by choreographer Bosco Leslie Martis. We spoke to Aditya about working on Rocket Gang, the pressures on kids in movies, seeking out 'character roles', and the status of The Empire season 2. Excerpts...

Are you a trained dancer and did it come handy on Rocket Gang?

Since my childhood, I've been training to become an actor, so my father (late producer Ravi Seal) made me do everything. He made me learn how to fight, he made me learn dancing. So I knew Bollywood and some Hip-Hop.

But honestly, on the first day when I went to Bosco's and we started rehearsing, we started on the song 'Bang Bang! Raath Bhar...', a groovy and cool song so I got the steps easily. I thought acha pure film mei aise hi gane hai, aise hi tracks hai (the film has similar music throughout) then I'm going to ace it. When the next day the proper training started, I was like 'Okay.. we need time for this'. The dance was fast, quick, clean. I was not used to this kind of dancing. What you see people do on shows like Dance India Dance, it was at that level.

The film has kids from reality shows. Is life much different for them now compared to when you started out?

I was chilling when I was their age. My father never put any pressure on me. But these kids, they have to manage school, their studies and their reality shows apart from doing a lot of dance training. I'm sure they love it, but it's still a lot of pressure. I'm glad to see what they are doing but if it's taking a toll on their mental health, if it's putting pressure on them, then we need to rework something. So that's something the parents need to think over.

There's a lot of competition, with some kids being forced to become breadwinners for their families

Absolutely, that is unfair. I believe a kid should be allowed to be a kid for as long as he or she can be. I still feel there is a child inside me and I'm fighting every day for it, to not let it die. I always say that growing up is a trap. I had heard this before and I do realize it now why they say this.

Rudhiram: Raj B Shetty's Malayalam debut is a revenge drama

SAJIN SHRIJITH

KANNADA film buffs in Kerala were hit with a surprise on Tuesday when Raj B Shetty announced that he was making his Malayalam debut with Rudhiram, co-starring Aparna Balamurali.

Debutant Jisho Lon Antony will direct from his own story, with screenplay credits shared by him and Joseph Kiran George. Sharing the title poster of the film, which goes on floors in 2023, Raj wrote: "The Axe forgets, but the Tree remembers."

Speaking to Cinema Express, Jisho describes the film as a "revenge drama, which bears the qualities of a survival drama in the initial stage, before shifting gears."

The filmmaker, who has dabbled in commercials and marketing, adds that Rudhiram is a "performance-heavy" project that "demands performers like Raj and Aparna Balamurali with equal footing." "When I wrote this with co-writer Kiran, many faces came to our mind, from Tamil and Malayalam, but since we are already familiar with this kind of work from them, we felt the wow factor would be missing. But Raj is someone that Malayalis are not too familiar with but also regard him with much respect, given the warm reception to his films like Ondu Motteya Kathe, Garuda Gamana Vrishabha Vahana, or 777 Charlie -- three films with different flavours. Moreover, he is a director and writer, and we thoughts we would feel very confident with a genuine personality like him in our corner."

As for whether Raj's character is a Malayali or Kannadiga, Jisho is not at liberty to divulge at the moment. He also thinks it's irrelevant. "After COVID, in the OTT age, we have noticed language barriers disappearing, considering people got to see films across all languages, be it from here or abroad. Besides, Rudhiram is a film with more emphasis on visuals."

The team aims for an early 2023 shoot, possibly by January. "We are figuring out the dates, as Raj is currently in the middle of his next directorial, which should wrap up soon," says Jisho.
